GERMANS YIELD TO ALLIES TERMS

Accept Conditions Laid Down for Genoa Conference

PACT WITH MOSCOW STANDS

Teutons Barred From Discussion of Russian Affairs

GENOA — (Associated Press) — The German reply to the allied ultimatum accepts the condition that the German delegates be barred from participating in the further discussions of the Russian question by the Genoa conference, the Russo-German treaty signed at Rapallo being allowed to stand.

Both the Germans and the Russians today submitted their replies to the allies' demands.

The Russian reply accepts the allied proposal for the payment of Russia's debts due to foreigners, and the restoration of foreign property nationalized by Russia, in case the Soviet regime is granted recognition by the allied governments as a de jure state, and is given adequate financial assistance.

The effect of the two replies is to continue the German and Russian participation in the work here, and thus to bridge over the crisis which recently threatened to disrupt the conference.

The German note is longer than that from the allies, and begins by acknowledging with "pained surprise" the protest received, which is considered undeserved. The note then repeats what Dr. Rathenau, German foreign minister, has stated on several occasions—that negotiations for the conclusion of the Russo-German treaty had begun long ago, were known to have been in progress in all the European governments and had lately been suspended out of deference to the conference.

GERMAN IMPRESSIONS
But the exclusion of Germany from the negotiations held by the allies with the Russians at the Villa de Albert gave to the German delegation the impression that the allies were trying to conclude arrangements with the Soviet government without German participation, perhaps to Germany's detriment.

At a certain moment, perhaps thru misunderstanding, the German delegation received the impression that the allies were about to conclude an agreement with the Russians therefore the Russo-German negotiations were resumed and resulted in signing of the treaty at Rapallo on Easter Sunday.

The German delegation believes that this treaty does not violate the spirit of the conference and indeed contributes to its supreme aim—pacification of the world and the reconstruction of Europe.

NO REASON TO PARTICIPATE
The note admits that, after the conclusion of this treaty, the German delegation has no reason to participate in the work of the first commission dealing with Russian affairs but says it will willingly participate in the other work of the same commission dealing with European and German interests.

The delay in delivering the note was due chiefly to differences of opinion among the Germans themselves as to the best attitude to take, some fearing the repercussion in French quarters, as the French delegates had kept themselves aloof during the home incident. The statement made by Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain before the journalists at the meeting in the Royal Palace yesterday, however, was interpreted to mean that France was in perfect agreement with the other allies.

RUSSIAN ANSWER

The first commission was summoned for a meeting today by the chairman, M. Schanzer, for a discussion of the Russian answer to the report prepared by the allied experts at their London meeting.

The Russian answer, which has not been made public yet, is understood to accept in principle the acknowledgment of Russia's pre-war debts on condition that a long moratorium be granted, this to be followed by minimum interest payments which would gradually be increased as Russia became able to pay. It is said that the other Russian debts be waived but by the indemnity claimed by Russia from the allies and, finally, asks for a large loan.

KING OF ITALY TO VISIT PARLEY

GENOA — (Associated Press) — King Victor Emmanuel III will arrive in Genoa tomorrow on the dreadnaught Conte di Cavour, to visit the economic conference. He will be accompanied by the prefect's palace and give a luncheon aboard the dreadnaught Dante Alighieri to which all the delegations have been invited. It is not yet known whether the Russian delegates have accepted the invitation to the luncheon, which has created a delicate position for them. The Italian Communists are urging the abstaining from meeting the king, maintaining that would produce a bad impression among the Italian Communists, who conceive Communism as anti-monarchical.

THEFT OF $26,000 IS CONFESSED BY CASHIER

BOSTON — Harold S. Adams, charged with the theft of $26,000 from the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, by which he was employed for 14 years, as an assistant cashier, has confessed that a money box was lost in Rhode Island gambling house, the police announced today. He was taking money for three years. He is 30 years of age and married. He received a salary of $40 a week.

RIVER AT RECORD STAGES

Situation is Grave, Secretary of War Weeks Says

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The sum of one million dollars for control of flood waters of the Mississippi river, now at the highest stages in years, was immediately made available by a resolution rushed thru the senate and house today within an hour after the proposal was made by southern members had been approved by Secretary Weeks and Director Dawes of the budget.

Secretary Weeks in a letter to congress, urging immediate consideration of the relief resolution, said the flood stage was extreme, and that the water was higher at places than ever known before, that along stretches of 20 miles it was above the levees.

The loss of life, should the levees be unable to stand the strain, much longer and break would be incalculable and would result in a great national disaster, Secretary Weeks said.

TOWNS CRUMPLED BY FLOOD
CHICAGO — (United Press) — Flooded rivers were eating thru dykes, inundating farms and towns in Illinois, Indiana and Iowa, according to reports to Red Cross headquarters here today.

Over thousands of acres of crops, after forcing out three levees in Illinois and Indiana. Flood conditions in southern Indiana were the worst they have been in years. Thirty-five blocks are under water in Vincennes, Ind.

Water rushed over 40,000 acres of farm land, near McClure, Ill. The Red Cross has provided for the 400 homeless residents of Naples, Ill., and rescued a half dozen lambs marooned in an attic at Dog Trench Bend, breaking of the Harwell along a 23-mile front of the Illinois near Carrollton flooded 30,000 acres of reclaimed farm land.

TOWN DEPOPULATED
VINCENNES, Ind. — (United Press) — Russellville, Ill., was flooded today when a levee holding back the Wabash river, gave away. Homes in the little town of 200, crumpled before the sweep of the water.

Every home had a boat tied to the doorstep and when the warning was spread that the levee was giving away, the entire town entered the boats and were swept downstream. At Vincennes, five miles downstream, they joined the colony of 1,000 driven from their homes here when 35 city blocks were flooded.

JOB IS DECLINED

Detective Bowersock Refuses Hootch Sniffing Offer

Roy Bowersock, county detective, has declined an appointment as prohibition enforcement officer in a tier of counties in north-western Ohio, with headquarters in Lima, he admitted Friday.

The appointment was obtained for Bowersock by Congressman John L. Cable, subject to his acceptance, it is stated.

"Nothing doing on that sort of job," declared Bowersock. "Some person might jump at a job like that, but not me. I am satisfied to stay where I am. I have a good position here."

Part of Bowersock's reluctance to accept a job as a "hootch hound," sniffing out hidden caches of intoxicants, is due, he says to the stigma attached to the position.

It is also said, that there is a system of espionage, by which the liquor sleuths are watched by others, who in turn are trailed by a third set of investigators. Constant changes are in progress, it is said.

50 HURT IN BLAST

Oil Station Near Los Angeles Wrecked by Explosion

LOS ANGELES — (Associated Press) — Probably fifty people were injured, a number of them fatally, by an oil station explosion at Downey today.

Downey is a small town about 15 miles southeast of Los Angeles and its fire and police facilities were so small that it was necessary to call on the sheriff here to take charge of the police. Ambulances were sent from the city immediately.

The property damage has not been estimated an hour after the explosion which occurred at 10:40 a. m., but it was thought that it would probably not exceed $20,000 and might be less. The principal harm was to human life rather than to property. It has not been learned here whether any fire accompanied the explosion but persons nearby said there appeared to be no sign of flames.

COURT CLOGGED; JUDGE PIQUED

City Solicitor Fails to Arrange Trial Dates

TWENTY CASES ARE PENDING

Thirteen Rum Charges Included In List

Failure of City Solicitor Paul T. Landis to arrange with Judge Jackson in setting dates, has resulted in criminal court becoming clogged with 20 pending cases, 13 of which cover alleged liquor violations.

The piqued over Landis' failure, Jackson has so far refrained from censoring him, recognizing, he said, that Landis is busy with details of other civil legal matters. On the other hand, Jackson says, something must be done soon or the court will be helplessly behind and confusion may result with other cases which will come up in the future.

POLICE NOT HALTED

The matter was brought to the attention of Chief of Police T. A. Lanker Friday for the first time. He said there is a natural desire in the police department that cases be disposed of as quickly as possible, but lack of dispatch will in no way hinder the work of the department, he said.

City Manager Bingham said the matter has come to his attention, but he has not gone into it, nor did he have any suggestions to make.

The oldest of the cases is that of Frank Wallace, charged with violation of the Crabbe Act. It dates from December 20, 1921. Wallace was given one trial, and a hearing on motion for a new trial is pending.

The same proceeding is awaited in the case of William Prosser, a grocer, accused of possession of intoxicating liquor. It dates from January 20. Other cases are:

CASES PENDING
Mrs. J. W. Lucas, arraigned April 11, interference with an officer; E. E. South, March 22, Crabbe Act; Henry Upthegrove, April 18, assault; R. Schupp, Celina, April 17, Crabbe Act; J. W. Lucas, April 17, Crabbe Act.

Rudyard Whippis, Columbus, April 17, Crabbe Act; Harley Arnold, April 17, assault and Crabbe Act; Cad Laycock, April 17, assault and Crabbe Act; J. W. Durr, April 19, issuing a worthless check and Crabbe Act; Fred Yoder, March 14, disorderliness; W. H. Jerwers, February 21, Crabbe Act.

Joe Miller, February 3, Crabbe Act; George Coe, April 3, Crabbe Act; C. E. Wegler, April 3, Crabbe Act; L. C. Rummel, April 17, theft of city water; Casper Volbert, April 17, theft of city water.

GIRL KILLS SELF

Despondent Because of Losing Her Hearing

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press) — Said to be despondent because of her loss of hearing, Miss Anna Pione, aged 19 years, committed suicide by taking poison at her home last night. She was found unconscious and clutching a bottle that had contained poison after she had dressed for a dance. She died before a physician could reach her. Her dresser was a note. It read:

"Better dead than deaf. Nobody wants a deaf person. May God forgive me."

MILLION IN FINES PAID UNDER CRABBE DRY ACT

COLUMBUS — More than a million dollars in fines under the Crabbe prohibition act has been collected from violators since the law became effective November 3, 1921, it was announced at the office of Auditor of State Tracy. On April 1, the total fines collected was $1,134,397.14, of which one-half, or $577,198.57, was paid into the state treasury and the other half was distributed among the counties.

Mahoning-co leads all others in the amount of fines paid, the state's share amounting to $76,158.35. Summit-co is second with $49,162.16, Stark-co third with $36,403.12 and Franklin fourth with $85,552.80.

NAMED IN BANK FRAUD

Everett R. Peacock, former president of the Milwaukee-Irving State Bank, Chicago, is one of seven against whom the state's attorney says he will ask indictments. The bank, officials charge, was looted of $465,000. Peacock has issued a statement saying he knows nothing of the missing funds.

PIENING CASE IN JURY'S HANDS

Fate of Minster Slayer Rests With 10 Men, 2 Women

WAPAKONETA. — (Special) — Decision as to the guilt or innocence of Charles Piening, Minster, horse trader, rests with the ten men and two women composing the jury. The jury filed out of the court room shortly after 11 a. m., Friday and started deliberations.

In closing the argument for the state Friday morning, Prosecutor Carl Timmermeister, Auglaize-co, renewed the demand made by his colleague on the day previous, that Piening be sent to the electric chair for the murder of Rev. Richard Schweitzerman.

CHARGES INTENT TO SLAY
Intent of Piening, to slay the priest, he said, was clear.

"Why does a man pick up a gun?" the prosecutor demanded of the jury, "unless he intends to shoot?"

The arguments of the defense, which commenced Thursday afternoon, continued Friday. Roy C. Layton, Piening's counsel, sought to convince the jury that the prisoner shot and killed Father Schweitzerman while under the influence of an hallucination.

He sought to have the jury take into consideration the influence of liquor on Piening's frenzied brain.

Common Pleas Judge T. C. Layton, gave his charge to the jury shortly before 11 o'clock.

MAY ESCAPE CHAIR
Popular opinion is that Piening will escape the chair as did Harold Nierengarten, the slayer of Joseph Scott Kershaw, who was tried here recently.

Speculation as to whether the jury will reach a decision quickly or will deliberate for a long period, is rife.

NUDE BODY FOUND

Beautiful Woman is Mysteriously Murdered in Chicago

CHICAGO — (United Press) — The nude body of a beautiful blonde woman about 30 years of age, was found in an old moving van on the South Side here today. The body was covered with bruises. The woman had been dead only a few hours.

A fresh bloodstain on the doorstep of an apartment house just north of the vacant lot where the body was found, led police to believe the murdered woman had been dragged out before daylight today.

Two squads of detectives were rushed to the scene and the coroner summoned.

The body was lying face down.

HUBER STORE IS DESTROYED

Entire Hamlet Threatened in Early Morning Blaze

CITIZENS IN LOSING FIGHT

Spencerville Fire Department Prevents Heavier Loss

SPENCERVILLE — (Special) — A loss of more than $10,000 by fire which leveled the Ben Huber department store in Kossuth, a hamlet four miles south of here, on the Miami and Erie canal, threatened to destroy other structures, early this morning.

Timely arrival of the Spencerville fire department prevented a further spread of the flames.

LOSS IS COMPLETE

The fire started between 3 and 4 o'clock and within a short time the big two story frame building, with its contents, the latter valued at more than $7,000, was a mass of flames. The blaze is of unknown origin. Rooms on the second floor were unoccupied, save as a place of storage for office equipment owned by Dr. R. R. Goughday, who moved recently to Spencerville.

The Spencerville fire department was unable to save any part of the Huber store, but prevented destruction of nearby structures. Several fires were started by embers from the Huber store, but were quickly extinguished. A hole was burned in the roof of the Horn garage.

Most everyone in the hamlet of 250 people, who were able to do so, assisted in fighting the flames, but without avail. The destruction of the building and contents is complete. Only a huckster wagon, housed in a shed next to the store building, was saved.

PROPERTY INSURED
It is understood that Huber carried insurance on the building and contents, but not sufficient to cover the loss.

Charles Barnett, 1027 W. Elm-st., was owner of the Kossuth store until two years ago, when it was sold to J. J. Haley. Huber took over the property a year ago.

It is understood that Huber will take immediate steps to rebuild and re-establish the business.

BIG MILL PLANNED

U. S. Steel Corporation to Build $15,000,000 Plant

NEW YORK. — (Associated Press) — Construction of a $15,000,000 tube mill at Gary, Ind., is planned by the United States Steel corporation, said a statement issued today by Chairman Elbert H. Gary. Building of the mill will begin at once and it is expected that the making of the tubes will be in full operation before the end of 1927.

The mill will have a capacity of about 350,000 tons a year, increasing the present tube capacity of the United States Steel corporation by 20 to 25 per cent. It will be erected by the National Tube Company, a subsidiary of the steel corporation.

Funds for the construction of the mill will be obtained by the sale of $7,000,000 Indiana Steel Company five per cent bonds and $8,000,000 National Tube Company five per cent bonds. The remainder of the money will be taken from the cash surplus of the steel corporation.

ONE LONE TRAFFIC CASE
John Nieland, 35, of 1140 S. McCall-st., was issued $1 in criminal court Friday when he pleaded guilty to parking his machine without lights.

WASHINGTON — Signature by President Harding of the Langley bill authorizing an additional appropriation of $17,000,000 for hospital facilities for disabled former service men was announced today at the White House.

The experiments, Sergeant Zimmerman said, have been under way here for a year and are the results of investigations begun in a bug-infested barracks in Luxembourg, under the direction of Captain Armstrong of the fifth division, signal corps, with which Zimmerman was serving shortly after the armistice.

"At that time we were having night school and were working on the shortest possible wave length, setting as low as one fourth of a meter," the sergeant explained. "Radio sets were located three feet apart on a glass topped table."

"One night everything was working perfectly when suddenly our tubes began to act queerly. By the flickering light of the candle we finally located Mr. Cockroach sitting in the space between the receiving and transmitting apparatus. We removed him and to our surprise the apparatus became normal. This led us to believe he was capable of making electric power."

The sergeant declared one insect radio to another and this belief, he says, is supported by his experiments.

"I have found in my experimental work," he asserted, "that a cockroach has a wave length of between one half inch and one inch with a very low frequency."

"The tumble bug and moth are also endowed with radio power," he added, "while beetles show only slight evidence of possessing wireless habits."

SAN FRANCISCO MAN SUES FOR $299.09 DAMAGES IN LOSS OF HIS MUSTACHE

SAN FRANCISCO. — (Associated Press) — Injured pride at the loss of a prized mustache "not less than three inches in width and six inches from tip to tip, removed from plaintiff while he was asleep under a hot towel," in a barber shop, had found outlet today in a suit for $299.09 damages filed in a San Francisco justice court.

The suit was brought by James T. Maguire of Bakersfield, Calif., and County club, against Henry Jacoby barber.

Maguire was said to have stopped in a San Francisco barber shop, seated himself in a chair and fell asleep to awake to discover his loss. The complaint set forth:

"That as a result of the said mustache having been willfully and maliciously shaven from the face of said plaintiff, said plaintiff has materially decreased in his personal appearance before the public; his younger children are not able to recognize him and the plaintiff has extreme difficulty in being recognized at banks, restaurants, garages, golf courses and other places where plaintiff has business."

GIRLS KIDNAPED

Crimes Traced to White Slavers in New York

NEW YORK — (United Press) — The third kidnaping of a young girl within a week came to light today. Warning, have been sent out of apparent widespread operations of gangs of white slavers.

Minnie Zarebnok, 16, who was rescued today from a gang who had kept her without a vestige of clothing, playing her with drugs for ten days, told the police she had been kidnaped while on an errand by a man who dragged her into a taxi-cab.

Her captor, who said he was William Weissinger, who was in bed when the police broke into the den where he had kept the Zarebnok girl, seized a revolver and was knocked senseless.

Less than a week ago, a Chicago girl was taken by five men to a house and kept prisoner for two days and since that time another girl was dragged into a hallway by five men. She escaped.

Police believe that a gang, which kidnapes young girls and plies them with drugs and bottles liquor, is operating here.

COCKROACHES COMMUNICATE BY WIRELESS

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (Associated Press) — The troublesome cockroach is a "radio fan" and communicates by wireless with his brothers and sisters.

Howard Zimmerman of Harrisburg, sergeant major of the fifty-fifth infantry brigade, headquarters company, Pennsylvania guard, believes and seeks to prove thru experiments the results of which were made public here today.

The experiments, Sergeant Zimmerman said, have been under way here for a year and are the results of investigations begun in a bug-infested barracks in Luxembourg, under the direction of Captain Armstrong of the fifth division, signal corps, with which Zimmerman was serving shortly after the armistice.

"At that time we were having night school and were working on the shortest possible wave length, setting as low as one fourth of a meter," the sergeant explained. "Radio sets were located three feet apart on a glass topped table."

WALKOUT IN COAL FIELDS SPREADS

680,000 Men Now Idle, Union Chiefs Claim

COMPLETE TIEUP FORECAST

Unorganized Sections Thoroughly
Canvassed by Agents

INDIANAPOLIS — (Associated Press) — With the third week of the nation-wide suspension of work in the coal industry ended today, officials of the United Mine Workers of America at union headquarters here, declared that the peak of strength of the strikers had not yet been reached although the number of idle miners had increased to 680,000, a gain of 20,000 during the week.

Efforts to bring a more complete tieup of the industry will be continued. Under the union's avowed program of calling for almost a complete suspension of coal production, any new developments, forced by the union, may be expected to come in the Pennsylvania bituminous regions and also in West Virginia, the strongholds of the non-union operators.

CLAIMS SET FORTH

In a score of other states scattered across the country, no important developments have been reported since operations were brought to a standstill on April 1. In the Pennsylvania anthracite districts, a similar quiet has been maintained. In the unionized bituminous fields, President John L. Lewis, the union leader, estimated that 450,000 miners have joined the suspension, while in the anthracite industry he said 150,000 men are affected. In addition, he declared that reports of union field agents show at least 80,000 workers in the unorganized fields as participants in the walkout.

COAL SUPPLY

As long as the general suspension of work obtains, the nation's coal output hinges largely on the non-union mines, which operators here say have an aggregate output of 5,500,000 tons weekly, approximately 2,600,000 tons more than has been produced in either of the first two weeks of the strike. Meanwhile, any excess consumption must come from the 68,000,000 ton pile that had been built up before the strike started, and operators here say little of this has yet been used. Union sources said they had no figures on consumption.

MINERS OFF TO TRIAL

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — (Associated Press) — A special train carrying some 250 miners and their leaders left Charleston today for Charleston, where they are to be tried on indictments returned in Mingo, Logan and Kanawha counties. The train was met by a large force of police and armed men. Accommodations had been prepared for about 450 persons, but a number missed the train or were already on their way to the trial town. Included in the passengers were a number of women and children, families of the accused.

The party was led by William Patney, district vice president of the United Mine Workers, President C. F. Keeney, having decided to postpone his departure until tomorrow. Fred Mooney, secretary-treasurer was already in Charleston where it was expected he would have completed arrangements for the care of the defendants by the time they arrive. Many friends and relatives of the accused saw them off, but there was little or no demonstration.

DIVORCE AND CUSTODY OF CHILD IS SOUGHT

Had Velma Morton depended on the contributions made by her husband, Clifford Morton, 429 E. Market-st., for maintenance, she would have led a sorry existence since her marriage January 28, she states in a petition filed in common pleas court Friday.

Clifford, she says, has given her only $6 during their married life. She has been dependent on her own efforts and hospitality of relatives to exist. There is one child, Roxana Carol.

Care and custody of the child and a decree is asked in the petition.

ARNOLD MANDARY HELD IN TEA, PEPPER THEFT

Theft of approximately $35 worth of tea and pepper from the Western Ohio Railway company is charged against Arnold Mandary, 25, colored, 723 N. Jackson-st. He was arrested Thursday at 5:15 p. m. at his home by Plainclothesmen Hargrove and Blair after a housewife on N. Jackson-st. reported he attempted to dispose of a quantity of the pepper.

According to police, Mandary secured the loot from a garage of the Lima Transfer company at the rear of the W. O. R. Co. office, W. Market-st., Thursday afternoon. It was consigned from St. Louis to the Peerless Cash grocery in this city. The tea is valued at $20 and the pepper $15, it is stated.

Police were working on the case Friday, and it was expected that Mandary will be arraigned late in the day. A grand larceny charge was placed against him.

SEEKS IMPROVED TRADE RELATIONS BETWEEN U. S. AND LATIN REPUBLICS

Daniel H. Mooney, of St. Marys, former American Minister to Assun-Paraguay, where he represented this government for seven years, said while in Lima, Thursday night that trade relations between Uncle Sam and the Latin republics has become such that the little countries are awakening from their long lethargy and are rapidly adopting American customs and the use of American-made machinery and goods of all kinds.

Mooney, who retired in July of 1931 from the government post, recently arrived home from a trip to Bogota and other points in Colombia, on a private mission, representing an American syndicate and is devoting his time now to the practice of law.

While located in Paraguay, he acquired a knowledge of the Spanish language and speaks it quite fluently. The American exports to the South America by the United States, in the Monroe doctrine, is not misunderstood by the intellectuals of the many little republics, he says.

REBELS ATTACK BARRACKS

Assailants Beaten off by Free
State Defenders

BELFAST. — (Associated Press) — Firing was again in progress in the Short Strand area of Ballymaccarrut, the eastern section of Belfast, early today. A sergeant in the special Ulster constabulary was the first casualty of the day.

The deaths in the hospital last night and the death of Andrew McCann, one of yesterday's wounded, raised the Easterlist to 12. BARRACKS STORMED DUBLIN. — (United Press.) — Wellington barracks was stormed by rebel troops during the night. The attack was beaten off with casualties on both sides.

Machine gun volleys were poured into the barracks, which was garrisoned by free state troops. Rifle fire from neighboring houses over a wide area was directed at the emplacement.

Insurgents then rushed the front gate of the barracks, hurling hand grenades as they reached the barracks.

Free state defenders retaliated with other hand grenades. Two of the attackers and three of the free state garrison were wounded. The roar of bombs and constant volleys drove inhabitants of the neighborhood into a state of panic. The assault lasted for over an hour before it broke down.

The delay in the race negotiations between Collins and De Valera was believed to have encouraged the rebels.

WILL CONTESTED

Validity of Document Attacked in Collins Case

Common pleas court will be called upon to decide whether the document filed and probated in court is the last will of the late Samuel Collins, in a trial to be held before Judge F. C. Becker on May 1.

Miss Dorothy Collins, great-granddaughter of the deceased, is contesting the will. Perry C. Collins, son is executor of the document and he is made defendant in the case.

Miss Collins, in her action filed in court, avers that the document probated is not the last will of her great-grandfather.

Collins died October 18, 1919. His estate is valued at $15,000.

MRS. W. L. WOLF FUNERAL WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Funeral services will probably be held Saturday for Mrs. Mabel Wolf, 35, wife of Walter L. Wolf, ticket agent at the Pennsylvania railroad in Lima, who died Thursday night at St. Rita's hospital. Final arrangements have not been completed.

Death followed an illness of one day from uremic poisoning. Mrs. Wolf was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dickey, 214 Harrison-av., and was born in Dupont-Putnam-co.

Besides the husband and parents she is survived by four children, Russell and John, Betty Ann and Dorothy Jane, and by six brothers, Irvin, and Henry Dickey, both of Toledo; Allen and Ross, both of Fort Wayne; Cec and Olen, both of Lima, and a sister, Mrs. Gladys Powell, Lima.

MEN AND MATTERS

Rev. Charles F. Wishart, president of Wooster college, will deliver the morning sermon at the Market-st. Presbyterian church, Sunday. Dr. Wishart was formerly pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Chicago, until he became president of the college three years ago.

W. J. Judkins, 1037 J. Market-st., has regained his eyesight and is greatly improved in health, since a cataract was removed from one of his eyes. The sight of both eyes was affected.

W. Harry Harper, first vice-president of the Elmer D. Webb Co. left for Rochester, Minnesota, to undergo an examination at the Mayo Brothers hospital.

Members of the Rotary club will attend the special services at Christ Episcopal church Sunday at 10:45 a. m. in a body. Special music will be provided by the choir for the services.

S. C. Biddle, industrial secretary of the Lima Y. M. C. A., attended a conference of industrial secretaries in Springfield to arrange a track meet to be held in Columbus. Biddle said, the middle of September, after a local athletic meet of industrial teams has been concluded.

PHILADELPHIA — (Associated Press) — A new industry—scrapping of old warships—has sprung up along the Delaware river where, not so long ago, more than one hundred thousand men were working feverishly to help build a "bridge of ships" across the Atlantic to check the progress of Germany in the world war.

Philadelphia, the birthplace of many of the vessels, also is the "graveyard" of a number of the navy's once great fighting craft, discarded because they have become obsolete. Later when the scrapping program of the arms conference becomes effective many more ships will be added to the list. Hundreds of men are engaged in turning the steel from the discarded ships into billets that can be worked into materials for the construction of buildings, tools, locomotives, automobiles and other peace-time uses.

In one Delaware river shipyard, alone, there are awaiting dismantling the battleships Maine, Missouri and Wisconsin, the once-proud first-class cruiser Columbia, the monitors Ozark, Monterey and Tonopah, and countless destroyers, eagle boats and smaller craft.

ACETYLENE TORCHES USED

Powerful oxy-acetylene torches, wielded by masked workmen, are being used to cut thru the eleven-inch steel turret armor of the Maine, while a 125-ton crane was used to take out its 12-inch guns.

Further along the yard the little obsolete submarine, with its paper-thin hull is being ripped apart with pneumatic chisels to the accompaniment of the gating gun-like staccato of compressed air hammers. The monitor Monterey, an improved edition of Ericson's gallant monitor of Civil war fame, with its surface-flush deck, rapidly is being converted into billets. Its ten and twelve-inch rifles, however, still appear menacingly thru the turret's shell in being tipped apart with pneumatic chisels to the accompaniment of the gating gun-like staccato of compressed air hammers.

MOST PRECIOUS JUNK

A little submarine A-1 Plunger, "grandfather" of the modern submarine cruiser S-41, is awaiting scrapping. Creature of the brain of J. P. Holland, the early trials of the A-1 were the subject of almost as many legends and stories as marked the first efforts of Robert Fulton and his steamboat on the Hudson river.

The most precious "junk" obtained from the ships is the copper gun metal, navy brass manganese bronze, lead and zinc. Complete destruction is not necessary in the case of all the craft. The hulls of some of the torpedo boats will undergo a transformation to adapt them to peaceful pursuits. This already has been done with the destroyers Truxton, Worden and Whipple, which will ply between the United States and Central America carrying cargoes of fruit.

Engined with kerosene oil burners, they are large cargo carriers and of such light draft that they can navigate shallow rivers on high tide and lay off plantations for loading, thereby eliminating lighterage cost. Their clean lines give them great speed, which makes unnecessary the expensive refrigerating system used in slower fruit boats.

DANCE NETS $410 FOR CITY HOSPITAL BENEFIT

Woman's Board of Managers of City Hospital netted the amount of $410 from the benefit dance, given at the Elks' home, according to announcement made Friday by Mrs. J. E. Grosjean, president of the board.

LIMA MAN, U. S. M'NEAL, DIES IN STATE HOSPITAL

William S. McNeal, 48, son of the late Alvin McNeal, died at Toledo state hospital, Thursday night, according to work received here Friday morning. McNeal was committed to the institution about six months ago.

His wife died some years ago. A sister, Mrs. Maggie Green, resides in Mendon. Charles McNeal, Marion, and William McNeal, Grayling, Mich., are surviving brothers.

DIRECT HEIRS TO SHARE ESTATE OF JOHN AMSTUTZ

John R. Amstutz, Beaverdam is named as administrator of the estate of John Amstutz, who died April 8, in a will probated before Judge J. H. Hamilton, Thursday. Bond was set at $12,000.

Legacies of $200 each go to Joseph and John Amstutz and the remainder of the property is divided equally among the heirs.

Henry Augsberger, William McBride and J. M. Barnes were named appraisers.

LANDFAIR AND BILLSTEIN RETIREMENT REQUEST IS BEFORE PENSION BOARD

Applications for retirement filed by Charles Billstein and George Landfair, veteran members of the police department, were referred to the pension committee for action at meeting of the board held Friday.

Billstein and Landfair laid their claims for pensions before Chief T. A. Lanker, with the request that they be relieved from duty two weeks ago, but no announcement was made at the time.

Advancing age and the increasing demands of duty caused the two officers to make the request, it is stated.

FUND EFFORT GETS NEW IMPETUS

Elk Lodgemen, With Band, Stage Street Parade

RESPONSES LAG, BEALL SAYS

Will Extend Campaign For Aid of Bureau

A flare of brass, the thump of drums and the glare of red fire brought to the attention of Lima citizens Thursday night that "Gloom Chasing Week" is still on.

Members of the Elks club in automobiles and preceded by the lodge band, paraded the downtown streets at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, boosting their open house for the Social Service fund.

A crowded house was seen at the Elks home with the dance floor well filled. Other attractions in the home were well patronized.

"Every one is back of this movement except some of the well-to-do individuals. Responses which have come in have been very satisfactory but not enough of them have been coming in," J. W. Beall, chairman of the committee, said Friday.

"We sent out some 200 letters a week ago, urging that contribution be sent in. We sent out 200 more Thursday and will stay with them until we get a definite response one way or another," Beall said.

A meeting of the campaign executive committee in the chamber of commerce social service committee will be held Monday afternoon, to map out plans for raising the balance of the fund this week.

"We are going to get the money needed to carry on the work during the remainder of the summer," Beall said. "The work of the bureau is too important to be cut down. Someone will suffer if we do not raise our full quota."

FRIDAY DONATIONS

Money received Friday by the bureau included $133.50 from the employees of the Lima Telephone Co., divided as follows: Commercial $43.50; equipment, $30; plant, $33 and traffic, $28.

Other donations are: $25 from M. M. Keltner, and $10 from Sunshine society. The Knights and Ladies of Security also gave $17.65. A total of $11 was obtained by the Herkules Tempus club from their bake sale.

MANY FAIL TO RESPOND

Main features on the program for the remainder of the week includes open house at the Elks Home Friday and Saturday.

Members of the First Christian Church choir will present Gault's "Holy City" Sunday evening, April 22nd. Proceeds will go to the Social Service bureau. Lima's best musical talent will assist.

CONDITION OF STORM VICTIM IS CRITICAL

The condition of J. W. Riley, of near Cridersville, who was injured in the tornado Monday night, grows more critical each hour at St. Rita's hospital, where he is a patient, according to word from the hospital.

Riley is suffering from an infection of the arm, due to an injury when his home was leveled.

Amputation of the arm has been postponed by hospital surgeons, awaiting improvement in Riley's condition.

MERCER-CO ORGANIZES FOR BETTER HIGHWAYS

Mercer-co will have a good roads council, modeled after the Allen-co council, J. Kennard Johnson, secretary of the Harding Highway association announced Friday.

At a meeting held in Celina Thursday night, a temporary organization was formed, with George L. Schroyer, of Ft. Recovery, as chairman. An organization meeting will be held May 1.

The Mercer-co Farm Bureau was the impelling influence behind the meeting, which was a very enthusiastic one and went on record solidly behind the good roads project.

At the May meeting 36 representatives from various organizations and county and township offices will meet at Celina to perfect the organization and to hear an address by G. F. Rudstall, Columbus, an organizer from the state body.

A definite plan of action is being mapped out, Johnson says and the extension of good roads through the county will be helped greatly by the new organization.

HUNGER BLAMED ON RAILWAYS

Industry Paralyzed by High Rates, Willis Declares

WARNS HEADS OF ROADS

Says U. S. Will Act if Change is Not Made

FRONTON Ohio — (United Press) — Completion of the St. Lawrence waterway will mark the beginning of an industrial development in the middle west, such as the world has never known, Senator Willis, said here today at the opening of a new bridge across the Ohio river.

"The day will come when products of Ohio and Kentucky will go direct by water routes without a change, to the markets of the world," he said.

Senator Willis declared the "country is being held back industrially because of inadequate transportation facilities and unreasonable freight charges."

MISTAKEN POLICY

"Products of the farm rot on the ground, while hungry millions are in need of food, because a mistaken policy of railroad management fixes freight rates so high that the traffic cannot move. At lower rates the producer could afford to ship, the consumer could afford to buy and railroads could get paid for carrying the goods."

"Something must be done to remedy this situation—and will be done by governmental action unless private management shall awake from its ghastly lethargy and show that it understands the principles which apply in every large business enterprise."

"The government will unavoidably be driven to some further drastic action at a nearby date, unless relief shall be promptly afforded by present railroad management from the existing extortionate freight charges that are paralyzing industry and impeding the return of prosperity."

NEW MEMBERS OF CHURCH OF CHRIST ARE WELCOMED

Thirty-eight new members admitted into the Church of Christ during the pre-Easter services, were extended a welcome and reception Thursday evening, at the church. More than 200 attended.

Rev. J. Allen Canby, pastor, conducted the devotional services. T. B. Hamilton spoke in behalf of the official board, J. W. Weaver for the church school, E. A. Stepien for the Bible school, Miss Caroline McClure, Miss Esther Sheely and Mrs. J. F. Marvin for the Christian Endeavor society.

Music was provided by the Misses Helen and Hannah Ewing, Pauline and Corrine Ganes, Margaret Freeman and Monica Ganshaw. Maxine Marvin and Robert Brody gave readings.

J. L. SIMPSON, FORMER LIMA FOUNDRYMAN, DIES IN BELLEFONTAINE HOME

J. L. Simpson, 60, former manager of the East Iron Works, Lima, died in Bellefontaine early Friday morning. Simpson was stricken while at his foundry in Bellefontaine. He was removed to the home of his son, Boyd H. Simpson, nearby, where he died without regaining consciousness.

Besides the widow, he is survived by the son, Boyd H. Simpson, and another son, Hugh Simpson, of Bellefontaine.

Simpson was widely known throughout Allen-co. He left Lima about four years ago, since which time he had conducted a large foundry in Bellefontaine.

Mrs. W. E. McMillan, 410 S. West-st., is a sister. Three other sisters and a brother survive.

MANY MAY LOSE TAX EXEMPTION

Returns Must Be Filed By May 1
To Save Penalty

Personal tax returns are coming in very slowly, according to C. R. Phillips, county auditor. Persons who own property which should be listed annually on these blanks, seem to have forgotten entirely their duty in the matter, according to Phillips.

All tax returns must be received in the office of the county auditor by the morning of May 1. Under the laws, unless the tax return shows that it has been mailed or sent to the office by that time, the maker is not entitled to the one hundred dollars exemption allowed owners of personal property.

Assessors are located at small tables in the lobby of the court house and will give assistance to all who call. Women and men must make out a tax return, if owners of household goods or any personal property.

Failure to do so subjects the owner to a fine, under the law. Blanks may be secured at the office of the county auditor, in case assessors overlooked any person.

CONGRESSMAN FESS TO ADDRESS MASS MEETING

Representative Simon D. Fess of the 7th Ohio district, Yellow Springs will speak at a mass meeting to be held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at the Trinity M. E. church, Market and West-sts, Sunday at 3 p. m.

Men and women are invited. No announcement has been made as to the subject Fess has chosen.

AMBULANCE REMOVALS

WILLIAMS AND DAVIS: Mrs. Walter Wolf, 527 Woodard-av to St. Rita's hospital. Mrs. L. L. Fry St. Rita's hospital to Western Ohio station, en route to her home in Anna. Paul Maritz, son of J. M. Maritz, from the City hospital to his home one mile west of West Cairo. Mrs. Elizabeth Ross, Elmwood-hill to City hospital. Mrs. H. G. Sharpley, St. Rita's hospital to 111 S. Cole-st.

MRS. ALVAH H. MCCREARY, of Philadelphia, who says nothing she could say for Tanlac would be half good enough after the way this remarkable medicine has brought back her health.

"It is just glorious to have my health back, and in my opinion there is nothing I can say about Tanlac would be half good enough," said Mrs. Alvah H. McCreary, 1531 Locust St., Philadelphia, Pa.

"For two years I had all the miserable and agonizing symptoms that go with a bad case of stomach trouble. Although I lived on the strictest kind of diet I suffered torture from indigestion and finally my whole system seemed to give way."

"I certainly know how to appreciate the wonderful blessing of good health and I have such confidence in Tanlac that I wish it was in my power to put a bottle of it in the hands of every sick man, woman and child so that they might take it and get well and strong, as I have done."

Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Stores and by leading druggists in every town.

MILLER SENTENCE SOON IN PIGIRON PURCHASE

Sentence for Alex Miller, 45, junk dealer, 423 S. Central-av, will be meted out Monday in federal court in Toledo on a charge of having received more than ten tons of pigiron stolen from an interstate shipment here early in the year.

Miller was found guilty and was paroled for 30 days by Judge Kilitt to enable him to arrange his business affairs before starting for prison.

C. OF C. PLANNING BODY NAMED

Zoning Committee Chosen by President Webb

MUNICIPAL EXPERT COMING

Chairman of New Board to be Chosen Later

Announcement of the personnel of a City Planning and Zoning committee of the chamber of commerce was made Friday morning by J. Kennard Johnson, manager.

The committee was named by Glen Webb, president, and was selected after conferences with the Real Estate board and with city officials. Each member has promised to give every ounce of energy he has in making the committee a success, Johnson said.

COMMITTEE PERSONNEL. Members of the committee are: E. S. Barringer, secretary; Lima trades and labor council; Harold B. Cunningham, mayor; Gus Holst, a realtor; L. A. Linsen, manufacturer; P. M. Leach, architect; G. E. McHaffey, banker; I. J. Motter, realtor; W. L. Painter, attorney; B.

A. Weadock, realtor, and C. J. Woerner, secretary Lima Engineering society. "Zoning" means the regulation of the buildings in a city as to height, area and use and will give each land owner proper light and means of access as well as protection against unseemly noise, unpleasant odors and offensive sights, Johnson says. Members of the committee will meet with the Lima Real Estate board at the Lima club Friday evening to listen to Jacob L. Crane, city planning expert from Chicago. SUGGESTIONS SOUGHT. They will also hold a special meeting Saturday morning at 9 o'clock to meet with Crane and receive suggestions from him as to the best way to proceed with their work. A chairman will not be selected until next week, it is stated. Announcement of the organization meeting will be made later.

JACKSON-TP FARM WOMEN TO DISCUSS FIRST AID

Health problems in the farm, including first aid and home nursing for the sick, will be discussed and demonstrated at a meeting of farm women in Lafayette Monday night. Mrs. Harvey Butler, health leader for Jackson Tp., will be in charge of the meeting and give a review of the lectures and demonstrations held in Lima more than a week ago. H. J. Ridge, farm agent, was in Spencer-tp. Friday, attending the combined last day of school event and organizing pig and clothing clubs among the farm boys and girls. He was in American-tp. Thursday.

SHOES OF QUALITY At Greatly Reduced Prices

In Crawford's "Down-Stairs" Store you will find more real shoe value for the amount of money expended than is possible to be had in any other store. Because our footwear in the "Down-Stairs" store consists mostly of shoes, oxfords and pumps of a very high grade which we have moved "Down-Stairs" to close out quickly. Hence, you will not get cheap shoes at a "make-to-believe" reduction, but good, high grade quality shoes, at a greatly reduced price for Saturday's selling. Inspect these various items.

Young Men's Oxfords
$4.85

Smart, crisp, new styles, in dark tan, medium light tan, and black calf, made over the new square French toe last, niftily perforated. Good solid leather insoles and Goodyear Welt sewed, all leather outsoles, in most all sizes, from 6 to 10, B to D.

An unusually nice collection of women's brown kid, dull kid, black suede, and black satin, as well as some patent kid, strap pumps, with full Louis and Junior Louis heels. All of these are $8 to $10 grades, moved "Down-Stairs" to discontinue. Sizes 3 to 8, widths AAA to D.

Boys' Elk Outing Shoes
$2.48

Here's a shoe value that is unequalled for the boy who wears out shoes "faster than you can buy them." A real tough, soft Elk upper, with special treated leather soles, and price reduced in sizes from 1 to 6 to only $2.48.

Men's Sizes, 6 to 11, $2.98

A Comfortable Work Shoe
$3.85

For the man in the shop, outdoors, on the farm, or in fact, any place where he needs a comfortable, light weight, soft, pliable shoe for hard wear, try this special all dark tan leather, Blucher shoe, made over the Army last, with Goodyear Welt sewed soles, all sizes and price reduced to only $3.85.

Big Girls' Dark Tan Oxford
$4.85

Here's a value that's hard to equal—made from genuine dark tan calf, Goodyear Welt sewed soles, smooth all leather insoles, low broad heels with rubber heel taps, the new medium full toe, sizes up to 8, and priced down to $4.85.

Patent Jazz Oxfords
$4.85

A fine new lot of the most stylish model which we have had this season, in an all patent Jazz Oxford, with low broad rubber heels, full toe, neatly perforated and trimmed, making it a distinctive style, a regular $7 grade, moved "Down-Stairs" to close out; most all sizes, from 3 to 7, A to D.

A Big Value for Big Girls
$2.98

An all dark tan calf lace oxford, low broad heels, medium full English toe, a solid leather oxford throughout, and our assurance of good satisfactory wear with every pair makes this number a real bargain at $2.98. Sizes 3 to 7.

COUNT IS CRUSHED BY SCANDAL

Parliament Member Quits Because of Sister's Escapade

HE GOES INTO SECLUSION

Divorced Poetess Weds Again, Leaves Husband for Lover

TOKIO — (Associated Press) — A law which relieves the head of a family of responsibility for the conduct of its members, Count Yanagisawa, brother of the poetess Akiko Ito, whose famous divorce case startled the empire, has resigned from the House of Peers and gone into seclusion.

The little poetess, already divorced, created a sensation last year when she suddenly married Mr. Ito, a member of the House of Peers. She was known to love a young literary man named Miyazaki, whom she met at the home of Mr. Ito before her second marriage.

Count Yanagisawa, who would now be the first divorcee, began to take an active interest in affairs of state. He represented Japan abroad on several occasions and was regarded as one of the leaders of his party in the upper house of parliament.

But the temperamental poetess soon proved that she was far from settled in her rich surroundings. Society and political circles were startled last October when she suddenly left the palatial residence of her husband while the latter was on a business tour, and went to her lover Miyazaki, in whose home she was found several weeks later.

Enraged at her brother and his powerful friends to induce her to return home proved fruitless, whereupon the case was laid before the imperial government with a plea that Akiko be granted a divorce in order to permit a legal marriage to Miyazaki. The Imperial Household, however, declined to interfere on the ground that it would have a bad effect on the discipline governing noble families, and in desperation Count Yanagisawa and his wife arranged a grand coup d'etat which resulted in the kidnapping of the girl from the home of her lover and the keeping of her whereabouts secret for the past several weeks.

In resigning from the House of Peers, Count Yanagisawa authorized a statement that he always had been identified with questions pertaining to a stricter discipline among government officials and of moral improvements in general, and adding that he felt a personal responsibility for the acts of his "erring sister," who could not be forgiven in the modern law making the individual and not the family the social unit.

$2,000 STOLEN

COLUMBUS — Two thousand dollars in cash, the receipts of the day's sale from eleven central Ohio oil filling stations was stolen Thursday night from the safe in the company's station at Spruce and High-sts., it was learned this morning when employees opened the safe for the day's business. The robbers attacked the combination to obtain the loot.

PLANS MADE FOR MOTHER'S DAY

National Observance Arranged by Legion Auxiliary

CONCERTS FOR ILL VETS

Ceremony to be Held Over Unknown Soldier's Body

INDIANAPOLIS — (Associated Press) — Mother's Day, which falls this year on Sunday, May 14, will be observed nationally as well as locally by every one of the 3,500 units of the American Legion Auxiliary. Assistance will be given the woman's organization by the 11,000 posts of the American Legion. Announcement of the plans for observance were made here today by Miss Pauline Currier, secretary of the Auxiliary.

The national effort at observance will be symbolized by an impressive ceremony over the body of the Unknown Soldier, in the national cemetery at Arlington, Va. Tribute will be paid to the unknown mother of this soldier, who was buried with distinctive honors last Armistice Day. Ceremonies will be held over the graves of war dead in other parts of the country.

COMMUNITY SERVICES. It is planned to have Legion and Auxiliary members unite in community church services, to be held in all towns on the afternoon of Mother's Day. Auxiliary units will arrange concerts in hospitals in which there are veterans of the late war and programs of entertainment also be given in orphan asylums in which there are children of men of the World War.

The Auxiliary also will promote the observance of established features of the day, such as church attendance, in the morning, preaching of appropriate sermons and the urging of everyone to write or wire his mother on that day or send her flowers.

Mother's Day was originated by Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia. The American Legion Auxiliary is composed of the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of Legion men.

TAKEN TO SANITARIUM. Mrs. T. E. Carpenter 758 W. Market St., is at Martinsville, Ind., where she will take a course of baths at the springs near there. Mrs. Carpenter is a sufferer from rheumatism.

Keeping A Rosy Complexion And A Clear Smooth Skin What Millions Of Women Do.

Medical science says that each one of the billions of red blood corpuscles in your blood stream must have iron or your blood becomes pale, thin and watery. Your lips and cheeks also lose their color, then your stomach, kidneys, liver and heart become weakened, your intestines do not act properly, poisons may be absorbed into your system and your skin thereby becomes rough and muddy looking, dark circles may appear under your eyes, your cheek and facial muscles and tissues shrink, hollows may appear, and you may even look several years older than you actually are. To say the least, the freshness of your youthful beauty is gone.

It is estimated that at least one woman out of every three you meet lacks 100% iron in her blood and is more or less affected thereby. In many cases in addition to the loss of their beauty, they become weak, nervous, restless and may be afflicted with melancholy or the blues, or suffer the terrible terrors of nerve force exhaustion.

Nuxated Iron is guaranteed in every case to furnish your body with true red blood food which your blood must have for you to be strong, healthy and vigorous. It is the iron in your blood that puts the color in your cheeks, helps clear up your skin and give the ruddy glow of health to your complexion. It has been used by millions of women. Get a bottle today, take it for two weeks, and if you have not joined the ranks of the thousands who have obtained most surprising health, strength and energy from the use of Nuxated Iron, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money.

NUXATED IRON
Iron is a secret of beauty and health of millions of wonderful women.

PRICES INCREASED. WASHINGTON. Wholesale prices of necessities showed slight increase during March, department of labor announced.

Does Your Back Ache? Do You Find It Hard to Get Up in the Morning?

Here's a Way to Gain New Life
Cincinnati, Ohio—"I had been a great sufferer from backache and kidney trouble. My work is pretty hard on the back and I got so bad that I could hardly bend over or straighten myself up to do my work and it was an effort to get up in the morning. I was in such a state that I was willing to try anything, and did try many things. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anuric (kidney and backache) Tablets at last and tried them. The reason I say last is, 'Anuric' was the last I needed, for two bottles have taken all the pain and kink out of me. I want to say, 'Anuric' has them all beat."—Albert Johns, 1739 Eastern Ave.
Help your weakened kidneys by obtaining this "Anuric" of Dr. Pierce's at your nearest drug store or send 10c for trial pkg. of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., or write for free medical advice.

35th ANNIVERSARY
A Great Celebration Sale
1922 LIMA, OHIO

One of the Most Important Messages You Have Ever Read

35th Anniversary SALE

The event which has been in preparation for a solid year

Begins Saturday, April 22nd at 8:30 a.m.

America's Leading Manufacturers, Importers and Wholesalers have co-operated with us to make this Anniversary The Greatest Value Giving Event Lima has had in the last thirty-five years

THE UNPRECEDENTED VALUES RESULTED FROM THE LETTER REPRODUCED BELOW:

Our Reputation Is Your Assurance of the Quality

Reproduced in the centre is a letter which we sent to the firms which supply us regularly with merchandise. In view of the fact that we have been trading with them for years—in some instances for 35 years, we asked them to provide us with merchandise that offered "extraordinary" savings.

We received a co-operation which we hardly dared hope for—most firms promised merchandise at cost; a few even below cost, and all promised extraordinary value.

You will note that we specified that the merchandise MUST measure up to the FELDMAN standard of quality. This we have insisted on—low price was no temptation unless accompanied by Quality. But we procured plenty of quality merchandise at low prices—and we are going to "Thank" our patrons by saving on smart, new merchandise that will be supreme in value giving.

A Word About Our Merchandise in This Sale

Thousands of dollars worth of merchandise has been prepared for this event—the newest, freshest, most desirable and fashionable garments and accessories the markets afford; and it is going to be offered to the people at prices that mean Golden Opportunities to all who come.

We know it is to be a great event—we know that the merchandise is the kind people will appreciate at the prices. We know that everyone who attends this sale and shares in the values offered, will have a warm regard for the FELDMAN STORE.

We are backing up these plain words with plain facts, and women will have only to see the values to realize that this opportunity is far beyond the ordinary. Out-of-town people will find it greatly to their advantage to arrive as early as possible as the attendance at this sale is sure to be tremendous.

The entire Feldman Store bids You Welcome to this Celebration and Share in the Bargains Planned for This Event

The foremost manufacturers of Hosiery, Gloves, knit, silk and muslin Underwear have outdone themselves to make our offerings phenomenal savings to you.

Unbelievable values have been procured from renowned makers of Corsets, Sweaters, Petticoats and the smartest accessories such as Bags, Jewelry Novelties, Neckwear, Ribbons, and Umbrellas, as well as Stationery, Dress Trimmings, and Art Needlework. The Children's Shop offers a great many notable bargains in Dresses, Coats, Headwear, etc.

By Values Shall You Know It!

"How shall we express our appreciation to the people of Lima for the thirty-five years of confidence they have had in this store?"

To this question many answers were offered until we finally adhered to this decision:

"Let us say it with merchandise. Let us hold a gigantic Festival of Values. For a period of time let us offer merchandise at prices unbelievably low!"

"Let our friends know that we are celebrating and let them celebrate with us."

So the idea of our 35th Anniversary Festival of Bargains was born.

"BY ITS VALUES YOU SHALL KNOW IT!"

The newest and most desirable garments and millinery will be offered you during this sale at the greatest price reduction we have ever made.

Several hundred coats, suits, and dresses were collected in small lots here and there from the best makers, given to us at prices representing a material loss to them as a contribution to make our ANNIVERSARY SALE wonderful. Buy your coat, suit, dress, skirt, waist or hat now, and you will save.

New Bargains will be Announced each day in the Lima Newspapers. If you are not a subscriber, send us your name and address. You will receive gratis both papers for the duration of the sale

FRIENDLY STORM PREVENTS FROST

Fruit Buds Saved by Rainfall
Which Sidetracked Freeze

This section of Ohio is not yet out of danger from spring frost, according to predictions Friday, from the Columbus weather bureau. Unsettled this afternoon and fair tonight and Saturday, with frost except in southwest portion tonight. Warmer Saturday.

Peach and grape growers of northern Ohio state a slight freeze Thursday night did not damage fruit prospects. They assert the buds are not far enough advanced to have been damaged to any extent. A slight snowfall also acted as protection to the buds.

Snow and rain also fell over this part of Ohio at 1:30 a. m., Friday. The flakes melted quickly, and no mantle of white was spread over Lima and Allen-co. Prospects of frost were dissipated. Thursday night by a visitation of rain. It was a friendly storm that came in from the west and despite cold weather, prevented a frost and freeze, as was predicted.

Winter came back to Cleveland and other lake points early Friday, according to reports. There was a light snowfall and the temperature dropped to the freezing point at 4 a. m. Nurserymen believe that damage to fruit trees and grapes will be light, the blanket of snow serving to protect most of the trees from the severe cold.

CONTRACT WON BY DEFIANCE MAN

Earl L. Reed Will Build Highway in Allen-co

SECTION K, DIXIE ROUTE

Whether Brick or Macadam, is Not Decided

Contract for paving Section K, of the Lima-Sandusky portion of the Dixie Highway north of the city was awarded to Earl L. Reed, Defiance, who bid $56,362.56 on macadam and $55,319.70 for brick paving, according to information from Columbus.
Bids on the section were received by the state highway department.
MATERIAL NOT DECIDED
Whether brick or macadam will be elected as material, cannot be determined, because of its low cost will be recommended by the county commissioners, A. J. Gray said.
Concrete paving was offered the highway department at a much lower cost than brick, but at a cost of $25,636.25 more than the macadam type.
A saving of more than $13,000 per mile can be effected by use of macadam, members of the county board said.
Brick and concrete are favored by many persons because of low maintenance. Macadam on the other hand, has proven a costly type in Ohio, it is said. Average repairs run from $100 to $500 a mile, each year, and men say.
BINDER INSUFFICIENT
In the past too little binder has been used to surface the roads, commissioners say. The present specifications of the state highway department require a base of eight inches of rock, laid and rolled in two courses.
On top of this a three inch course of asphalt or tar is laid.
The existing macadam highways, which have not stood up, often considered it is said, of four to five inches of stone, with a carpet of tar, varying from a quarter of an inch to an inch thick.
The difference in cost between brick and macadam, commissioners state, is sufficient to build two miles of road, or pay the cost of maintenance or the interest on the money saved for an indefinite period.

ZONING EXPERT WILL ADDRESS REALTORS

City zoning and planning and its advantages to the growing city will be explained to members of the Lima Real Estate board at their monthly dinner at the Lima club
Friday at 6 p. m.
Jacob L. Crane, city planning expert from Chicago, will be present to explain the effects of a zoning program on the real estate owners in the city. He will make definite recommendations as to the policy which should be followed by a city in establishing a zoning commission.
Members of the newly appointed zoning and planning committee of the chamber of commerce will be present at the meeting, J. I. Morier, president of the realtors, said Friday.

The Spring Sales Are Here!

There is not any greater service that a store can choose to give than that of timing its sales events to conform with the needs of the people — buying in large enough quantities that the prices can really be considered sale prices — and lastly giving efficient and considerate service throughout the term of that event.
The keynote of economical buying in times of reconstruction is QUALITY — and that is the factor behind every above mentioned part of a successful sale—
Tomorrow we will feature three special purchase sales
—Men's Shirts — Curtains, and Rugs—

If you are a patron at any of all of these sales, watch for the characteristics that we have pointed out. You can readily find them apparent in Bluem sales.

With Ready- to-Wear as Always First,—Suits and Wraps

Pile fabrics—short but deep and lustrous—characterize the wraps for spring. They seem to have been created with an outlook for the needs of Fall, and will serve that season too. We are reducing them to special prices—You should choose immediately because depleted stocks that are sure to come later cannot yield the smartest fashions—the kind that you would only want.

Suits that formerly sold up to $95.00 are divided into three comprehensive groups—The first includes many Prinz tailored models—all navy—and one three piece suit. The next group consists of a slight sprinkling of the severely tailored mode, and a full array of every smart box style jacket suits. They are embroidered profusely, and come from this year's line only. The last group includes the remaining box styles, and a selection of others. The prices are respectively—

FIRST PICTURES OF GENOA MEETING - FLIGHT ACROSS OCEAN HALTED - NEWS PHOTOS

BABY SAMSON—Jackie O., three, of Miami, Fla., has a chic expansion of two and a half inches, normal, and 2 1/2 expanded.

HERO—A report of the heavy of D. Webb of the U. S. S. Orion has been sent to the Navy Department by Admiral Andrews. Webb saved a woman and three children in the fire that made 2000 homeless at Norfolk, Va.

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance and happy. When headaches, backache or "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the trying age from forty-five to fifty Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper.—Adv.

BRAVING MORE THAN THE DEEP—Howard S. Detweiler and Miss Emma A. Cassidy, Philadelphia (left), and Joseph Fisher and Miss Elizabeth O'Keefe, New York, will be married April 26 in the ocean at Atlantic City. They, their attendants and the clergymen will be outfitted in non-sinkable safety suits.

BABY SAMSON—Jackie O., three, of Miami, Fla., has a chest expansion of two and a half inches measuring 21½, normal, and 24 inches.

HERO—A report of the bravery of D. Webb of the U. S. S. Oriskany has been sent to the Navy Department by Admiral Andrews. Webb saved a woman and three children in the fire that made 2000 homeless at Norfolk, Va.

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance, and happy. When headaches, backache or "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the trying age from forty-five to fifty Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper.—Adv.

LAZARUS FACING DEPORTATION

Serving Out Fine of $500 in Booze Making Case

HAS FAMILY IN BUKOWINA

Commissioners Refuse to Liberate Prisoner

Gus Lazarus, steel worker, who languishes in Allen-co jail, serving out a $500 fine for making home made booze, may be deported. Judge Emmett J. Jackson, committed Gus to the county house, February 25, until the fine was satisfied. Gus would like to get out. His counsel, J. K. Rocky, has petitioned the county commissioner for his release. He claims that Gus is an indigent prisoner, with a starving wife and two children in Bukowina and must get out to support them. The Sisters will serve luncheon and dinner to visiting doctors from ten counties at the clinic. Nurses of St Rita's training school will serve.

cently come to Lima from Marietta bringing the still with him. "We cannot let him out of jail," declared A. J. Gray, president of the board of commissioners, when the petition was read Friday by Glen Wallace, clerk. "He will have to stay in jail." Other members of the commission were of the same mind. They may recommend, however, that Gus be deported as an undesirable alien. Such action may be recommended to Paul T. Landis, city solicitor. As the case originated in criminal court, it will be up to Landis to institute deportation proceedings.

To My People

KIND FRIENDS: Allow me to congratulate you upon the fine showing you have made so far this week in supplying funds for the Social Service bureau. When it comes to taking care of her worthy poor, Lima has never been found remiss. The money you have paid out for this worthy cause certainly will return, if not in dollars and cents, in satisfaction of knowing a noble deed has been done.

LIMA BEANE

To the Weather Man

YOUR temper has been terrible for the last week. Snap out of it! We're tired of your foolishness.

LIMA BEANE

To Business Club Baseball League

BOYS: Your season will open soon, I am informed. I enjoyed the exhibitions you staged last year and am firmly convinced the friendly rivalry resulting is a fine thing for my community. I hope, however, that you will keep professionalism out of the game this year. Contests will be much more enjoyable if confined to bona fide members of the various organizations participating.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Students

MY YOUNG FRIENDS: Hearty approval is merited for your efforts in developing yourselves in competition for higher musical events. I have always been proud of the vocal talent in my high schools and I trust that you will not shatter my ideal.

LIMA BEANE

To J. A. Harrison

DEAR JOHN: Right sorry I am that your ideas in the application of wired wireless were not developed sooner, so that the credit of the discovery would be accorded a citizen of my city.

However, I congratulate you that you have won the right to be termed a co-discoverer with Major General Squier.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Auto Club

BOYS: I am very glad that you have invited State Highway Commissioner Leon C. Herrick to attend your banquet on April 26. His interest is necessary in road programs. I'm glad he will visit my city. Show him the best we've got.

LIMA BEANE

To Congressman Fess

DEAR SIMEON: Hosts of my people, with whom you were formerly wont to abide, as a resident of Lima, will be glad to see you again on Monday, when you visit my Rotary Club, in the capacity of an orator.

Particularly so since you have shied your castor into the ring as a candidate for United States Senator.

LIMA BEANE

To Camera Bugs

THE season is on again. There are no signs to prohibit you from shooting. Help yourselves.

LIMA BEANE

To Householders

FRIENDS: It's time to get out the old lawn mower and have it sharpened. I hope you will use it generously in keeping your lawns in condition.

'ROUND LIMA HOUR BY HOUR

WITH APOLOGIES

BY OR. OH. JACKENRY
A Page from the Diary of An Acquainted Reporter. Up with the school children, and down Metcalf for a brisk stroll. They are sunbathing on an old homestead. Yet, methinks the debris of the garage that never was built will make a solard view. Saw J. W. McCarv, but he overlooked me. And Clark Miller, and glad he did.

The Y. M. C. A. has rooms to let. Spring has "come," Bergers sitting with hat outstretched Glenn Webb, with the inevitable cigar, trekking after a tornado polley Chris. McCune, the milliner Al. Stolzenbach and the smile that won't come off; must have landed a $50,000 graveyard guarantee. Flower stores deserted, but chewing gum machines running mad. The girls are shortening them, legs giving way to limbs as in y e olden times. Almost universally gray, blending to fairs and a sprinkling of flesh colors. You must wear something red, if only the lining of your coat. And dark blue is the worst end of vogue. Gray slippers and tan oxfords will take you to Indian Lake in perfect taste.

To the bank; deposited $32.10 into another, and cashed a check to cash for $35. But I never owe the postoffice a cent. Soft drinks now contain various favors free gratis. Friend of mine draw a cockroach that had grown so maternally she couldn't be shaken out of the bottle. To lunch with an out-of-town at the Elks. The violinist only annoyed us once. Jazz hasn't the appeal it had before the Allen county distillers learned the secret. Let's dodge in here, a bootlegger is trying to page me. Letter from my poor relations; referred to my sister at St. Marys.

To the office, whence came a notorious character. I am afraid to name. My electric button, direct to Chief Lanker's desk is right now my soul mate. But he wanted only a subscription for charity. Al. Billy Sunday, hasn't been here since 1910. Girls playing baseball, anything to keep out of the kitchen. It will be food by radio for the next generation. To the poste and greeted by a letter from Dee, who has tons to enclose a check for that ten I loaned her. Only she didn't. You can't trust women, Mack Altschul used to say. Yet he did. And he's looking happier than I ever did see him. Charlie Evans the provider of water for the bath and table; passes me without a nod. Poor Charlie, and he's led such a noble life.

Walked home to lunch on a chop and young onions from my wife's hotbed. So to the B. & O. with my partner, Adolph, to say farewell against his taking train for Mt. Clemens. The Woolworth Tower is one-third up, with its steel supports; and Andrews has started the spring ploughing on Pierce street. I will miss that subway. Down Main in reconnoitre with six shoppers coming out of Feldman's and each of their loaded. With the prettiest pretties one ever did see. So home.

It used to be "that man Wilson," but nowadays it's "the Washington situation." Lots of times parents are praised for raising such a fine son when the credit really belongs to some Georgetown.

WHICH IS TOSsing WHICH?

To Manager Bingham

DEAR CLARENCE: I am informed that my municipal plant to furnish current for my "White Way" is taxed to the limit and that if a break occurs, the town goes dark except for a few lights. I'm for saving money in every way possible, but I hate to think of the possibility of being without street lights for days and weeks.

LIMA BEANE

To President Harding

DEAR WARREN: Some time ago Washington press agents made much ado about a saving effected by your administration and now your secretary of the treasury says half a billion in taxes must be raised to meet a deficit. It's hard to lay up anything, eh, Warren?

LIMA BEANE

To Chief Lanker

DEAR TOM, DEAR JAWN: With the policemen playing baseball and the firemen of my city developing agility in volley ball, there should be no reason why my safety men should not at all times be in good trim.

LIMA BEANE

To Fishermen

BOYS: Already I have heard so many fish tales that I'm convinced it would be impossible to pick the champion. We'll just let it go by acknowledging you all pretty proficient in reporting catches and the big ones that got away.

LIMA BEANE

To Jack Frost

DEAR JACK: You'll please a lot of my people by deferring further visits to this section of the country until next fall.

LIMA BEANE

To Miss Mary Landon Baker

DEAR MISS BAKER: If you are ever married to that man you have left waiting at the church so many times, you should find him a very patient husband. I'll admit he can take more punishment than most of his sex and come up smiling.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

By BERTON BRALEY

THE ANNOUNCER

There is a warmer radiance to the sun
And there's a sweeter fragrance to the breeze.
It seems as if the branches, every one,
Had all at once grown greener on the trees.
My spirit waxes frolicsome and gay
I think I heard a robin sing, to-day!

Why, yesterday the spring seemed very late,
I shivered in a wintry wind, and chill,
"How long," I wondered, "must we wait and wait
Before spring boogies on each vale and hill?"
But here's an end of wearying delay—
I think I heard a robin sing, to-day!

The city's clamor turns into a tune
Of love and laughter in the heart of man;
And now the burdy-gurdy's jangled tune
Is like plume music from the pipes of Pan;
And all the town goes smiling on its way—
I think I heard a robin sing, to-day!

There is a gladness in each face I meet,
A glowing expectation and a gleam,
A spell is hanging over every street,
And in the dulcet eyes I read a dream.
Is it my fancy? Only this I say—
I think I heard a robin sing, to-day!

RETURNS FROM OIL EXPLORATION

WASHINGTON—Most of the romance and drama of the oil prospector's existence is imaginary, to be encountered in fiction, says Robert Anderson, just back from a year of oil explorations in India, Egypt and Algeria.

He is now on his way to Trinidad, where he will direct new searches for oil or the Whitehall Petroleum Corporation of London.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

HOW TO READ PULSE

(BY DR. R. H. BISHOP)

If a doctor were not within easy call and someone felt sick and seemed to have some fever, could you determine his condition to some degree by reading his pulse?

The normal pulse is usually about 72 beats to the minute and gives a single strong, but soft impulse. In certain diseases this becomes doubled, or irregular or hard and small, or so soft that one can hardly feel it.

In fever the pulse rate increases about eight beats for every degree of temperature; thus, at 102 degrees F., one expects a pulse rate of 100 or above. This is one way to measure your temperature or that of anyone that might feel ill in your family.

A clinical thermometer is not at hand. Of course this method is not always accurate and a suspicious temperature should always be measured by the clinical thermometer.

Typoid fever is one of the exceptions to this rule and a high temperature with a slow pulse should make one suspect the presence of this disease.

Pressure on the brain center, as in apoplexy, or fracture of the skull, also produce a slow pulse. So does severe jaundice. Irregular pulse sometimes indicates organic trouble and should be looked into by a physician.

The normal new-born baby has a pulse rate of from 120 to 140, which is characterized by the uniformity and quickness of the impulse; and is, the rebounds you can feel in the adult person are absent.

The baby's high rate of pulse gradually decreases with time, until at the end of two years, it is a rate little above the adult normal and a normal type of impulse.

"FAIR LADY" FOLLOWS REX BEACH'S FILM IDEAS

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

"FAIR LADY," Rex Beach's new movie, is a series of photographs with explanatory captions.

That's just what Rex Beach says he thinks a motion picture is. This Beach story is melodrama done in polite pot-boiling style. It has a conventional venetian plot with two conventional murders, one by and one of the villain. And what thrill is there in a conventional murder in these post-war days?

This movie murder plot, however, moves along at the proper tempo, to hold the interest to the end, thanks to the director, Kenneth Webb. It is also blessed with a cast of exceptional merit, the lovely Betty Blythe being the fair lady, Robert Elliott a most engaging hero and Thurston Hall handling the role of villain in the same old way that characterizes his stage performance. Florence Auer, a player of much stage and little cinema experience, has an important role. She is pantomime of extraordinary ability.

Betty Blythe and Robert Elliott in the fade-out climax of "Fair Lady."

"Footfalls" Is a Prison Drama—Sigma

THERE'S a splendid idea and strong story material in "Footfalls," playing this week at the Sigma, and that it is unpleasant in some places and quite melodramatic, it is strong enough and powerful enough to take a tremendous hold on any audience.

Most of the acting honors go to Tyrone Powers, who brings his rugged personality to the rough, powerful figure of the blind wanderer, the tale Taylor flirts prettily thru the first few reels and reaches splendid heights in the climax.

The story concerns Hiram Scudder, a blind cobbler whose keen sense of hearing makes up for his defective eyesight. His son Tommy is in love with Peggy Hawthorne, who loves him too, but who makes the mistake of flirting with another in order to make her Tommy wake up. Tommy takes the affair seriously. A fight, a murder, a fire in which the murdered one is destroyed, and many other unpleasant and gruesome things take up the central portion of the film, working to the murky climax.

It seems that with a little more care and intelligent treatment, "Footfalls" would have impressed you as a really great picture. As it is, the film abounds in dreary stretches and exaggerations that sort of detract from its worth, as "twere. Nevertheless, on account of its dramatic quality and masterly acting, it stands out as a welcome relief from some of the more pleasant plays of the day.

"Footfalls" is appearing again today and Saturday at the Sigma.

"The Sin of Martha Queed"—Lyric

HERE'S a pathetic little tale that plainly shows the evil and unhappy effects of bigotry and narrow-mindedness, tho' had you told the father in the story that he was unreasonable, he would have stamped you as blasphemous. There are people in this world, I guess, who are just about as mean and vicious as poor little Martha Queed's father, men who have inbred ideas about tradition, ancestry, etc., and are willing to believe the worst of everybody.

Martha Queed, the beautiful daughter of old Marvin Queed, was worshipped from afar by Atlas, a cripple, who idolized her. She was courted by David Boyd, a worthless, showy, degenerate, and a distant relative of her father's. She was also honestly loved by Arnold Barry, a nice young man vacationing in the mountains.

Martha, to obtain a view of Arnold's hunting lodge feigned a sprained ankle and was carried to the lodge. Once there, they talked about their love and happiness and time passed unheedingly.

The cold-minded one, David Boyd, who had followed Martha and spied upon her, hastened to tell her father of her whereabouts. Father's fury knew no bounds and when she was summoned before him she was forced to marry the man of his choice, the aforesaid degenerate. Follows a night of horror and in the morning the body of Boyd is found dead while Martha is nowhere to be found.

Guilt is unwittingly fastened upon Arnold and from then on all kinds of incidents weave and interweave themselves thruout the plot, some thrilling, some otherwise.

"The Sin of Martha Queed" gives to Joseph J. Dowling, Mary Thurman and Niles Welch splendid opportunities to display their histrionic talents and each and every one of the cast avail themselves of the opportunity given.

From lurid, melodramatic plot, they have succeeded in making a fairly interesting program picture, for which they deserve your patronage. The photography is excellent; the direction not of the best; the subtitles poorly constructed. Think you'll have a good time watching it?

At the Lyric, again today, along with a continuation of Harold Lloyd in "A Sailor Made Man."

Second Stock Attraction at the Orpheum

THE Raynor Lehr Company, for its second and current stock attraction has chosen the well-known classic, "Piney Ridge" playing at the Orpheum theatre today and Saturday.

The unique and interesting programs as dispensed by Raynor Lehr are becoming more popular with Orpheum patrons at each performance, and it is assured that their summer engagement here will prove of deep interest to those who patronize the Market-st theatre.

After each act of the drama or comedy, whatever the piece happens to be, the program is further augmented by appearances of the Light Now Quartette, vocal solos, chorus appearances, dance specialties, etc. Mr. Lehr, the "leading man" is a nimble dancer and his specialty dances furnish some of the bright pots of the program.

On Sunday only, a musical revue will be given by the company, with an entirely new array of songs and dances.

Can You Solve the Presidents Puzzle?

Brush up on your history, folks. Solve the very latest Presidents Puzzle. You can do it, if you try.

In the picture above you will find the names of ten presidents. The letters in their names have been rearranged. If you can straighten them out to spell correctly the names of the ten presidents you have solved the puzzle. For instance, the first one is George Washington.

If you can solve the puzzle, you can win $1000 or an Oakland auto which we are offering together with a number of other valuable prizes to help you win.

110 Points Wins First Prize

If you can correctly rearrange the ten presidents' names you will receive $1000 or an Oakland car. You will earn 25 additional points by qualifying your answer, that is, by proving that you have shown a copy of The Rural Weekly to five of your friends. This will give you 85 points in all. The first 25 points will be awarded by the three judges of the puzzle (who are in no way supposed to be helped by you) to the person who sends in the largest correct list of words made up

Costs Nothing to Try—$1,000 Just for You

Remember, folks, you don't have to spend any of your own money to win. No, sir! Not one penny!—and you won't be asked to subscribe to the Rural Weekly. All we want you to do is to help us introduce The Rural Weekly to five of your friends. That's simple, isn't it? It's going to be easy for you to win. Opportunity with a great big "W" in it. Send your answer to the puzzle and we'll tell you how to win the $1000 that's yours. All answers to M. F. BOLAN, Dept. 400, The Rural Weekly, c/o Paul, Minn.

OPEN LETTERS

To My People

KIND FRIENDS: Allow me to congratulate you upon the fine showing you have made so far this week in supplying funds for the Social Service bureau. When it comes to taking care of her worthy poor, Lima has never been found remiss. The money you have paid out for this worthy cause certainly will return, if not in dollars and cents, in satisfaction of knowing a noble deed has been done.

LIMA BEANE

To the Weather Man

YOUR temper has been terrible for the last week. Snap out of it! We're tired of your foolishness.

LIMA BEANE

To Business Club Baseball League

BOYS: Your season will open soon, I am informed. I enjoyed the exhibitions you staged last year and am firmly convinced the friendly rivalry resulting is a fine thing for my community. I hope, however, that you will keep professionalism out of the game this year. Contests will be much more enjoyable if confined to bona fide members of the various organizations participating.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Students

MY YOUNG FRIENDS: Hearty approval is merited for your efforts in developing yourselves in competition for higher musical events. I have always been proud of the vocal talent in my high schools and I trust that you will not shatter my ideal.

LIMA BEANE

To J. A. Harrison

DEAR JOHN: Right sorry I am that your ideas in the application of wired wireless were not developed sooner, so that the credit of the discovery would be accorded a citizen of my city.

However, I congratulate you that you have won the right to be termed a co-discoverer with Major General Squier.

LIMA BEANE

To Lima Auto Club

BOYS: I am very glad that you have invited State Highway Commissioner Leon C. Herrick to attend your banquet on April 26. His interest is necessary in road programs. I'm glad he will visit my city. Show him the best we've got.

LIMA BEANE

To Congressman Fess

DEAR SIMEON: Hosts of my people, with whom you were formerly wont to abide, as a resident of Lima, will be glad to see you again on Monday, when you visit my Rotary Club, in the capacity of an orator.

Particularly so since you have shied your castor into the ring as a candidate for United States Senator.

LIMA BEANE

To Camera Bugs

THE season is on again. There are no signs to prohibit you from shooting. Help yourselves.

LIMA BEANE

To Householders

FRIENDS: It's time to get out the old lawn mower and have it sharpened. I hope you will use it generously in keeping your lawns in condition.

The Y. M. C. A. has rooms to let. Spring has "come." Beggars sitting with hat outstretched. Glenn Webb, with the inevitable cigar, trekking after a tornado polley Chris. McCune, the milliner. Al. Stolzenbach and the smile that won't come off; must have landed a $50,000 graveyard guarantee. Flower stores deserted, but chewing gum machines running mad. The girls are shortening them, legs giving way to limbs as in ye olden times. Almost universally gray, blinding to tans and a sprinkling of flesh colors. You must wear something red, if only the lining of your coat. And dark blue is the west end of vogue. Gray slippers and tan oxfords will take you to Indian Lake in perfect taste.

To the bank; deposited $32.10. Into another, and cashed a check to cash for $35. But I never owe the postoffice a cent. Soft drinks now contain various favors free gratis. Friend of mine drew a cockroach that had grown so matronly she couldn't be shaken out of the bottle. To lunch with an out-of-town at the Elks. The violinist only annoyed us once. And Bill Sunday, hasn't been here since 1910. Girls playing baseball; anything to keep out of the kitchen. It will be food by radio for the next generation. To the posto and greeted by a letter from Dee, who hastens to enclose a check for that ten I loaned her. Only she didn't. You can't trust women. Mack Altschul used to say. Yet he did. And he's looking happier than I ever did see him. Charlie Evans the provider of water for the bath and table; passes me without a nod. Poor Charlie, and he's led such a noble life. Walked home to lunch on a chop and young onions from my wife's hotbed.

So to the B. & O. with my partner, Adolph, to say farewell against his taking train for Mt. Clemens. The Woodworth Tower is one-third up, with its steel supports; and Andrews has started the spring ploughing on Pierce street. I will miss that subway. Down Main in reconnoitre with six shoppers coming out of Feldman's and each of their loaded. With the prettiest pretties one ever did see. So home.

WHICH IS TOSsing WHICH?

To Manager Bingham

DEAR CLARENCE: I am informed that my municipal plant to furnish current for my "White Way" is taxed to the limit and that if a break occurs, the town goes dark except for a few lights. I'm for saving money in every way possible, but I hate to think of the possibility of being without street lights for days and weeks.

LIMA BEANE

To Chief Mack

DEAR TOM, DEAR JAWN: With the policemen playing baseball and the firemen of my city developing agility in volley ball, there should be no reason why my safety men should not at all times be in good trim.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

By BERTON BRILEY

THE ANNOUNCER

There is a warmer radiance to the sun
And there's a sweeter fragrance to the breeze,
It seems as if the branches, every one,
Had all at once grown greener on the trees.
My spirit waxes frolicsome and gay
I think I heard a robin sing, to-day!

Why, yesterday the spring seemed very late,
I shivered in a wintry wind, and chill;
"How long," I wondered, "must we wait and wait
Before spring booties on each vale and hill?"
But here's an end of wearying delay—
I think I heard a robin sing, to-day!

The city's clamor turns into a rune
Of love and laughter in the heart of man;
And now the hurdy-gurdy's jangled tune
Is like blithe music from the pipes of Pan;
And all the town goes smiling on its way—
I think I heard a robin sing, to-day!

There is a gladness in each face I meet,
A glowing expectation and a gleam,
A spell is hanging over every street
And in the dulcet eyes I read a dream.
Is it my fancy? Only this I say—
I think I heard a robin sing, to-day!

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

HOW TO READ PULSE

(BY DR. R. H. BISHOP)

If a doctor were not within easy call and someone felt sick and seemed to have some fever, could you determine his condition to some degree by reading his pulse?

The normal pulse is usually about 72 beats to the minute and gives a single strong, but soft impulse. In certain diseases this becomes doubled, or irregular or hard and small, or so soft that one can hardly feel it.

In fever the pulse rate increases about eight beats for every degree of temperature; thus, at 102 degrees F. one expects a pulse rate of 140 or above. This is one way to measure your temperature or that of anyone that might feel ill in your family if a clinical thermometer is not at hand.

Of course this method is not always accurate and a suspicious temperature should always be measured by the clinical thermometer.

Typoid fever is one of the exceptions to this rule and a high temperature with a slow pulse should make one suspect the presence of this disease.

Pressure on the brain center, as in apoplexy, or fracture of the skull, also produces a slow pulse. So does severe jaundice. Irregular pulse sometimes indicates organic trouble and should be looked into by a physician.

The normal new-born baby has a pulse rate of from 120 to 140, which is characterized by the uniformity and quickness of the impulse; that is, the rebounds you can feel in the adult person are absent.

The baby's high rate of pulse gradually decreases with time, until at the end of two years, it is a rate little above the adult normal and a normal type of impulse.

"FAIR LADY" FOLLOWS REX BEACH'S FILM IDEAS

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
"FAIR LADY," Rex Beach's new movie, is a series of photographs with explanatory captions.
 That's just what Rex Beach says he thinks a motion picture is.
 This Beach story is melodrama done in poetic pot-boiling style. It has a conventional vendetta plot with two conventional murders, one with one of the villain, and what else is there in a conventional murder plot in these post-war days?
 This movie murder plot, however,

moves along at the proper tempo, to hold the interest to the end, thanks to the director, Kenneth Webb. It is also blessed with a cast of exceptional merit, the lovely Betty Blythe being the fair lady, Robert Elliott a most engaging hero and Thurston Hall handling the role of villain in the same way that characterizes his stage performance.
 Florence Auer, a player of much stage and little cinema experience, has an important role. She is pandemonium of extraordinary ability.

Betty Blythe and Robert Elliott in the fade-out climax of "Fair Lady."

"Footfalls" Is a Prison Drama—Sigma

THERE'S a splendid idea and strong story material in "Footfalls," playing this week at the Sigma, and the film is as good as a sure thing in some places and quite pleasant in others. It is strong enough and powerful enough to take a tie-wind hold on any optician.
 Most of the acting honors go to Tyrone Powers, who brings his rugged personality to the rough, powerful figure of the blind cobbler. Eschscholtz plays the role of the first few reels and reaches splendid heights in the climax.
 The story concerns Hiram Seudon, a blind cobbler whose keen sense of hearing makes up for his defective eyesight. His son Tommy is in love with Peggy Hawthorne, who loves him too, but who makes the mistake of flitting with another in order to make her Tommy wake up. Tommy takes the affair seriously. A fight, a murder, a fire in which the murdered one is destroyed, the escape of the murderer—these and many other unpleasant and gruesome things take up the central portion of the film, working to the murky climax.

 It seems that with a little more care and intelligent treatment, "Footfalls" would have impressed you as a really great picture. As it is, the film founders in dreary stretches and exaggerations that sort of detract from its worth, as "Twelve" Nevertheless, on account of its dramatic quality and masterly acting, it stands out as a welcome right from some of the more pleasant plays of the day.
 "Footfalls" is appearing again today and Saturday at the Sigma.

"The Sin of Martha Queed"—Lyric

HERT's a pathetic little tale that plainly shows the evil and unhappy effects of bigotry and narrow-mindedness. The story that he tells is the story that he would have stamped out as blasphemous. There are people in this world, I guess, who are just about as mean and venomous as poor little Martha Queed's father, men who have inbred ideas about tradition, ancestry, etc., and are willing to believe the worst of everybody.
 Martha Queed, the beautiful daughter of old Marvin Queed, was worshipped from afar by Atlas, a young man who idolized her. She was courted by David Boyd, a worthless, slovenly degenerate, and a distant relative of her father's. She was also honestly loved by Arnold Barr, a nice young man vacationing in the mountains.
 Martha, to obtain a view of Arnold's hunting lodge, feigned a sprained ankle and was carried to the lodge. Once there, they talked about their joy and happiness and then passed unheedingly.
 The evil-minded one, David Boyd, who had followed Martha and spied upon her, hastened to tell her father of her whereabouts. Father's fury knew no bounds and when she was summoned before him she was forced to marry the man of his choice, the aforesaid degenerate. Follows a night of horror and in the morning the body of Boyd is found dead while Martha is nowhere to be found.

 Guilt is unwittingly fastened upon Arnold and from then on all kinds of incidents weave and interweave themselves thruout the plot, some thrilling, some otherwise.
 "The Sin of Martha Queed" gives to Joseph J. Dowling, Mary Thurman and Niles Welch splendid opportunities to display their histrionic talents and each and every one of the cast avail themselves of the opportunity given.
 From lurid, melodramatic plot they have succeeded in making a fairly interesting program picture, for which they deserve your patronage. The photography is excellent; the direction not of the best; the subtitles poorly constructed. Think you'll have a good time watching it?
 At the Lyric again today, along with a continuation of Harold Lloyd in "A Sailor Made Man."

he will do "Amos Judd," by John S. Mitchell. Irvin Willatt will direct Dorothy Dalton in "The Sea Bride" and "The Suen Call." "The Old Homestead" is to be produced with an all-star cast. Goldwyn has bought

Second Stock Attraction at the Orpheum

THE Raynor Lehr Company, for its second and current stock attraction has chosen that well-known classic "Piney Ridge," playing at the Orpheum Theatre today and Saturday.

The unique and interesting programs as dispensed by Raynor Lehr are becoming more popular with Orpheum patrons at each performance, and it is assured that their summer engagement here will prove of deep interest to those who patronize the Market St. Theatre.

After each act of the drama or comedy, whatever the piece happens to be, the program is further augmented by appearances of the light now Quattone, vocal solos, choral appearances, dance specialties, etc. Mr. Lehr, the "leading man" is a genuine dancer and his specialty dance turns some of the bright spots of the program.

On Sunday only, a musical revue will be given by the company, with an entirely new array of songs and dances.

Can You Solve the Presidents Puzzle?

Brush up on your history, folks. Solve the very latest Presidents Puzzle. You can do it, if you try.

In the picture above you will find the names of ten presidents. The letters of their names have been rearranged. If you can straighten them out to spell correctly the names of the ten presidents you have solved the puzzle. For instance, the first one is George Washington.

If you can solve the puzzle, you can win $1000 or an Oakland suite which we are offering together with a number of other valuable prizes to help boost The Rural Weekly.

To help several of your memory I am naming a partial list of all the presidents—James Buchanan, Woodrow Wilson, Ruford B. Hayes, Warren G. Harding, Franklin Pierce, Andrew Jackson, William McKinley, Martin Van Buren, George Washington, James Garfield, Zachary Taylor, Benjamin Harrison, Abraham Lincoln, James Monroe, Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, James M. Stewart, Taft, Chester A. Arthur.

The winning answer, or the one earning 110 points will receive $1000 in cash or an Oakland "Six" Touring car. The answer receiving 100 points will receive the Second Prize. There are 25 prizes in all, and in case of a tie each trying contestant will receive identical prizes.

Costs Nothing to Try—$1,000 Just for You

Remember, folks, you don't have to spend any of your own money to win. No, sir! Not one penny! And you won't be asked to subscribe to the Rural Weekly. All we want you to do is to help us introduce The Rural Weekly to the folks of your friends. That's simple, isn't it? It's going to be easy for you to win. Opportunity with a great big "GO" leading your way. Send your answer to the puzzle, and we'll tell you how to win the $1000 that's waiting just for you. Only 110 points win First Prize. You can get them!

It's easy to get points. Start now and send in your answer. Let correctly the ten president's names on a piece of paper and send it in. Then we will tell you how to get the list of words made up from the letters of the first president's name, leading your way. Send your answer to the puzzle, and we'll tell you how to win the $1000 that's waiting just for you. Only 110 points win First Prize. You can get them!

LODGE FACES HIS HARDEST FIGHT

Determined Effort to Unseat Massachusetts Senator Made.

HOT PRIVATE BATTLE ON

Powerful Democrats in Race for Senate Seat.

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY
BOSTON—(Special)—The biggest political fight in the United States is brewing in Massachusetts. It has national significance, and an eager national audience, because it is a fight to unseat Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

"Beat Lodge" is the slogan. "Who can do it?" is the question. Two millionaire lawyers are chief figures in the battle. One Colonel William A. Gaston, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination. The other, Sherman L. Whipple, will probably oppose Gaston.

Both are fighting men. But Whipple seems to be generally regarded as the most formidable Democrat likely to beat Lodge.

Another complication is that former Governor Samuel W. McCall may give Lodge a battle for the Republican nomination. If Whipple runs and McCall runs there will be two spectacular struggles at the September primaries as a preliminary to the grand knock-down battle in November.

SILK GLOVES OVER HARD KNUCKLES
Silk gloves cover hard knuckles in this remarkable situation.

All belong to the "upper ten"; all are wealthy; all are personal friends. "Colonel Gaston is a charming gentleman," says Senator Lodge.

"Mr. Lodge is charming personally—it's the things he stands for," says Whipple.

And Whipple feels the same way about Colonel Gaston; and Colonel Gaston has similar sentiments toward Lodge and Whipple.

Lodge is 72 and has spent half his life in Congress, six years in the House and 30 years in the Senate. Whipple is 60, and never held office. Gaston is 63 and has made three unsuccessful tries for governor.

Wilson Democrats are in open revolt against Gaston's candidacy, for Gaston was as much a foe of the League of Nations as Lodge. And Whipple, a strong League of Nations man, regards Gaston as being tarred with the same "big business" stick as Lodge.

HOME FOLKS FEEL IT'S STATE FIGHT
Here in Massachusetts the people are jealous of these "friendly enemies" of theirs. They want the rest of the country strictly to understand that this is a private fight, not a public one.

Thinking Democrats say the more Lodge is attacked nationally the more able he will be to don the cloak of martyr and in that role gain sympathy and support at home. They regard the "Lick Lodge" battlers, now being heard over the country in connection with Lodge's leadership against the League of Nations and for the four-power treaty, as Lodge propaganda—designed to make Massachusetts mad and rally the state around a native son.

So the state fight will not be so much on Lodge's attitude in foreign relations as on his record in home affairs.

Gaston hasn't announced his platform and will not until he returns from a business trip to Europe a month hence.

Whipple, tho not yet an avowed candidate, will fight Lodge on the ground that he has neglected labor and the masses generally in favor of special interests, and on his vote for Newberry and against such things as women's suffrage and the soldier bonus.

FOUR MARION MEN ARE HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE

TOLEDO—W. C. Lytle, Ed Bender, John Bender and Henry Llewellyn, all of Marion, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Gaines here today on the charge of conspiracy and impersonation of prohibition agents. The men are charged specifically with having swindled Harry Rentschler, a farmer, living near Marion, out of $2,000 following a fake booze raid.

It is alleged the four suspects posing as prohibition agents, raided Rentschler's home in November and confiscated a still. After the raid, it is said, they told the farmer the matter might be settled for a consideration.

Rentschler paid $2,000 to avoid prosecution, it is charged. Of this amount $500 was in cash and the remainder in notes.

All of the men pleaded not guilty and were held under $5,000 bond each pending action by the federal grand jury.

BUILDING THREATENED IN INCIPIENT BLAZE

A brick building owned by Mrs. J. E. Cridger at 434 S. Main-st. opposite city market house, was threatened with destruction at 10.10 a. m. Friday when one of the occupants, residing on the second floor, went out for a few minutes, leaving the door ajar, the wind rushing in and blowing a towel against a hot plate.

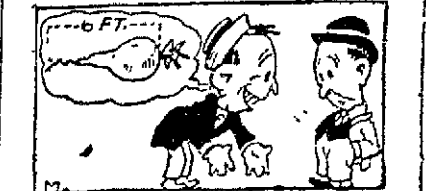

Several articles of clothing were burned, but damage to the building was slight, according to firemen.

CHICKENS STOLEN
Local police had their eyes peeled for suspicious looking autos Friday after a report from Chief of Police James Ague at Wapakoneta, that Roy Tieben, near Unionopolis, was relieved of 50 chickens Thursday night. The majority of them were laying hens. They are Plymouth Rocks and Leghorns.

RUM CHARGE
A. R. Ward, 908 Madison-av., salesman, was arrested Thursday in Public Square, by Officers Tom Lawler and Dick Watkins, on a liquor charge.

Gardening Is A Habit—And So Is Fishing

Spring gardening is with us again. No matter where one goes he hears gardening "experts" telling about the marvelous results they always attain.

Fishermen are not in it with vegetable vagabondage. Six-foot tadpoles, all summer strawberries, new varieties of succolash and all manner of lesser vegetables are their stock in trade.

It is a strong man who can listen to this line of chatter and not be tempted to start a garden of his own.

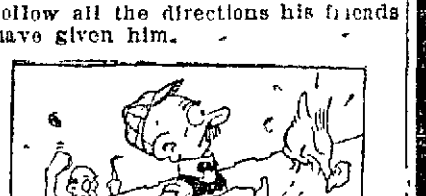

He finally succumbs to the demand starts a window box with you onions, tomato plants, cauliflower and cabbage.

Each day he will administer to his garden and copious draughts water to the pride of his heart will spend $10 worth of time on cents worth of plants.

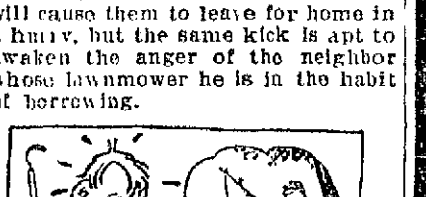

Then comes warm weather and with his tuxedo and a half-dozen packets of seeds he will start the real offensive against the opposition of the green grocer.

First, he will hoe out a trench and then he will carefully distribute the seeds in it. He is careful to follow all the directions his friends have given him.

Then he will awaken to the fact that his neighbor's chickens have been following him and have been "replanting" his seeds in an extremely undesirable way.

A well directed kick at said fowls will cause them to leave for home in a hurry, but the same kick is apt to awaken the anger of the neighbor whose lawnmower he is in the habit of borrowing.

Then when the sun gets hot and his hands get sore with blisters he sits down on a stone and considers the foolishness of mankind, the hardness of life and the glories of fishing.

If friend wife takes a peek out of the window a few minutes later she will more than likely find him gone—fishing. The garden will be finished some other day.

ZELNIO DIVORCE SUIT HEARING OPENED; 20 WITNESSES CALLED

Hearing of a divorce action brought by Mrs. Mamie L. Zelnio, 218 S. Pine-st., against her husband, Stanley J. Zelnio, a molder, began in common pleas court Friday noon.

More than a score of witnesses were summoned to testify for both sides. Several of them are mothers carrying infants. Police officers also have been subpoenaed, to tell of disturbances in the home.

Mrs. Zelnio filed a divorce petition October 17 in which she incorporated charges of infidelity, cruelty and neglect. She asked for the custody of their only child.

Her petition was accompanied by an application for an order restraining Zelnio from disposing of property and a motion asking that temporary alimony be allowed her.

Zelnio, countered with cross-petition.

WILLS OF FIVE FORMER CITIZENS ARE PROBATED

Wills of five Allen-co residents were probated before Judge J. H. Hamilton Friday, and administrators appointed to look after the estates.

Mary Ebner, daughter of Teresa Ebner, who died April 9, was named as executrix of the estate, in accordance with the terms of the will.

Gertrude Ritter, of Alger, was appointed administratrix of the estate of her mother, Eliza Heffner, wife of Harrison Heffner, 57, Lima.

S. B. Lewis was named as executor of the estate in the will of Simon Lewis, who died in Monroe-twp., March 30. Value of the estate is given as $4,257.50.

Emma Snyder, 604 N. Jefferson-st., was appointed administratrix of the estate of Newton Snyder, her husband, who died March 31.

The will of Florence Rigdon, wife of George Rigdon, 516 Holmes av., named R. R. Tubey, as administrator. Appointment was made by the court.

PROSECUTION LACKING. TWO CASES DISMISSED

Cases against W. W. Harrod, of Belle Center, and Charles Roddy, of Ottawa, were dismissed by Justice of the Peace William H. Guy Friday, for lack of prosecution.

Harrod was charged by George Leopold with passing a bad check for $40 and Roddy is said, by Don Armstrong, to have moved mortgaged household goods valued at $35.75.

LID GLUED ON AT SPENCERVILLE

Referendum May be Called Informally by Mayor

There will not be a ripple to disturb the Arcadian stillness of Spencerville, Allen-co's only "blue law" community on the coming Sabbath, closed town advocates aver.

Mayor C. C. Laman has ruled that the lid must remain glued on tight for the third Sunda, since the village slid back nearly a century.

Gloom, deep gloom will prevail.

Mayor Laman is still of the opinion that the question of an open or closed Sunday should be left to a majority vote. He proposes to call a special election to determine the matter.

The balloting may be carried on unofficially in order to avoid expense and obviate the necessity of delay as a result of red tape required by law in arranging special elections. No one has attempted to violate Laman's edict to date. No one ordered to close has kept open and there hasn't been an arrest made.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN

George Carter, Don Campbell, Max Falk, Charles E. Gordon, Roy Gregg, M. M. Keltner, E. H. Kettler, M. M. Mittenhall and H. E. Simonson were elected Friday as members of the board of directors of the Better Business bureau.

COLUMBUS AUTO CLUB SECRETARY TO SPEAK AT BANQUET IN LIMA

C. C. Jones, of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Automobile association, will be an added speaker at the Lima Auto Club banquet, in the Elks Home, April 28.

Joe Hartline, chairman of the committee, received a letter from Jones, Friday, saying he will be very glad to address the club on the date named.

Jones is a former American Automobile association referee and has handled the flag on all the big speedways, and road courses in the country.

He will speak on motoring, from a racing aspect. Hartline is also endeavoring to secure F. F. Bentley, of Warren, as a speaker, also.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN CRUSADERS AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO.—The party of women and children crusaders for amnesty for all political prisoners will stop in Toledo tonight on their way to Washington where they hope to make personal appeal to President Harding, it was announced here today.

The crusaders are under the leadership of Kate Richards O'Hare, Socialist leader and speaker, who was herself a war-time prisoner and who was deprived of citizenship on account of unpatriotic public utterances.

The party, consisting of 11 women, 13 girls and seven boys will arrive in Toledo from Springfield at six o'clock tonight and will leave for Detroit tomorrow morning. The party, it is expected, will be increased to 40 before Washington is reached April 29.

Mrs. O'Hare is scheduled to speak on a downtown street corner tonight.

BODY FOUND

TOLEDO—The body of E. W. O'Brien, 35, Toledo taxi cab driver, with the head crushed and stripped of all valuables, was found this morning lying behind a bill board, just outside the business district. All pockets in the clothing were turned inside out and police believe that robbery was the motive for the murder.

CLOTHING STOLEN

A suit of clothes owned by George Washington, porter at the Waldo hotel, was stolen from the basement of the hotel, Thursday night, according to police.

REINDEER STEAK
COMING SOON
Big Herd From Alaska Will Be Slaughtered in Fall
MEAT DECLARED PALATABLE
Eskimos Find New Source of Profit in Business

By PHILIP SINNOTT
ANCHORAGE, Alaska — (Special) — Get ready to eat reindeer meat, folks. The reindeer experiments of Uncle Sam, and William T. Lopp, in Alaska have proven a great success.
The first drive of 1500 steers, from the home range to a big distributing point is already under way. The Alaskan railway and steamers to the States will get the product out to the consumers.
More than 800 miles will be traversed by this herd, moving from Good News Bay to Riley Creek on the railway. The herd will pasture and graze on the moss-covered plains along the railway. In the fall they will be slaughtered.
It is a far different "drive" than those of the western cattle men. Instead of warm weather, the herd was started in winter, to insure streams being frozen over.

Other herds will follow this to the vicinity of the railroad, where a 12,000 square mile area is open for feeding and transportation is at hand. Surplus steers from other herds will be brought in regularly, and the offspring of the 1250 reindeer the government imported from Siberia will be a factor in feeding not only Alaska but part of the United States.
As a palatable, nourishing food, reindeer meat finds favor wherever marketed in America. Besides the meat and the raw skins, tanned reindeer skins are used for gloves, military trousers, chamois polishes and book binding. Reindeer hair is used in Europe for filling life-saving apparatus. From reindeer horns, a fine quality of glue is made.
But to the Eskimo is the reindeer most valuable. Alive, it represents a value of $25 a head. It is an excellent sled animal, traveling in snow too deep for dogs. Dead, his meat assures a food supply and a trading commodity, and its skin provides the material for making every garment worn.
Twenty-five years ago, the Eskimos owned nothing. Today, those in the reindeer industry own herds worth over $4,000,000, have an assurance of a profitable livelihood, and real business judgment.

Here is where Lopp has succeeded. He's chief of the Alaska division, U. S. Bureau of Education, and has taught the Eskimos the reindeer business.
Pioneers will tell you of Lopp's part in the Point Barrow Relief Expedition of 1897, when with four Eskimos, he drove 400 reindeer across the treacherous ice and windswept Arctic winter coast for 750 miles, to feed a starving people.

D. OF R. EVENT TO HONOR GRANT, AID RELIEF FUND

ARRANGEMENTS have been made by the Daughters of Veterans for an entertainment to be given next Thursday at Memorial Hall, for the benefit of the Social Service bureau. The event will serve a twofold purpose in that it will also honor the centennial of the birth of the great American general and 18th president of the United States, Ulysses S. Grant.

The various other patriotic organizations in the city, including the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps, the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Legion, the G. A. R.'s and the American Legion will assist the daughters in presenting the entertainment.

One of the features of the evening will be the presentation of a large star to Memorial Hall in honor of the soldiers. A patriotic program of interest and a play will also be given.

All are cordially invited to attend. A silver offering will be taken, the entire proceeds being given over to the relief fund.

Mr. Kleinberger is making his home with his uncle, Aaron Hartung, of Mt. Vernon, and is an artist pupil of Alida McCoy Hontig.

The following was taken from the Evansville Courier concerning Mr. Kleinberger's playing: "His work, which is done with the utmost ease and assurance, stamps him as a very talented pianist, whose playing is at all times musical, being characterized by beauty of tone, delicacy, grace, true poetic feeling and an abundance of force wherever required. Much may be expected of this young artist, who also only 18, has already outgrown the rank of an amateur and is entirely devoted to his art."

Mr. Kleinberger's skill as a pianist has been recognized on numerous occasions by Lima people, who are eager to hear more of this talented musician.

Mrs. J. E. Sullivan, of S. Jameson-av, welcomed the members of the Thursday Bridge club at a 1 o'clock luncheon at her home at the final club meeting for their year, Thursday. The playing at the benefit-bridge party to be given by the Delta Sigma sorority at the Elks' Home Saturday afternoon will start at 2 o'clock promptly. Those desiring to attend, who have not already made reservations, will please notify Miss Gertrude Boos, Miss Margaret Graham or Miss Hope Hollister.

The Junior Class of South High school will present its annual play next Wednesday evening at Central High school auditorium. The title of the play is, "Patty Makes Things Happen." It was originally written by Carolyn Draper Kilpatrick for an Easter dramatic society and made its initial appearance in Arlington, Mass.

The Home Guards of Trinity M. E. church will meet in the junior department Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

CANNED ASPARAGUS

Sister Mary Tells How to Put It Up Right

If you are lucky enough to have an asparagus - d of your own and it is big enough to more than supply your table try canning some for winter use.

Asparagus is one of the best vegetables to can. It keeps well after canning and requires little preparation for canning.

Pint jars are preferable to quart jars for asparagus as the stalks pack better in the smaller jar.

TO CAN ASPARAGUS
Cut off the tough ends of each stalk. Wash carefully and remove large scales from stalks. Blanch.

Put enough stalks to fill one can in a cheesecloth square. Tie loosely to keep the asparagus from breaking.

Plunge into boiling water and boil 15 minutes. Remove from boiling water and plunge immediately into cold water.

Do not let stand in cold water. Drain. Pack in sterilized jars. Add one-half teaspoon salt to a pint jar and three to a quart jar. Fill to within one-quarter inch from the top with boiling water.

Put on can rubber. Put can cover half way on. Place in canner and boil two hours. Count the time after the water begins to boil again. The jars will cool the water a few degrees below the boiling point.

At the end of two hours remove from boiler, and screw down top and cool quickly. Store in a dark, cool place. Light will cause the asparagus to lose its color.

To half seal a screw top jar turn the cover with the thumb and little finger as far as possible.

To half seal a spring top jar put the cover in place and adjust the top band. Do not clamp the lower band around the jar.

If you prefer to can the tops for salad and the ends for soup cut the tips in two-inch lengths. The new flat glass jars are very satisfactory to use for the tips.

TO CAN ASPARAGUS TIPS
Wash tips very carefully. Put enough to fill a pint jar in a cheesecloth square and tie loosely. Blanch the tips in steam.

To do this the asparagus tied in the cheesecloth in a colander over a large kettle of boiling water. Of course a steamer is easier to use, but the colander answers the purpose.

Steam 10 minutes. The delicate flavor is retained by this method and there is less danger of crushing the tender tips.

After blanching plunge into cold water. Drain. Pack in jar, add a half teaspoon salt and fill with boiling water to within one-quarter inch of the top. Half seal cover and boil.

LEARN A WORD A DAY

TODAY'S word is Vassal.
It's pronounced - vassal - vassal, with accent on the first syllable.

It means - a servant, bondsman, subject, dependant.
It comes from "vassalus," page, servant.

Companion words - vassalage, vassalism, vassalize.
It's used like this - "America working men are independent; they do not wish to occupy the status of vassals."

OUR FIRST YEAR

BY A BRIDE
THE WIFE AND THE OFFICE

START THIS TODAY

Marriage should have no shackles in the opinion of Jack and his wife. They're trying out the theory. Now she's about to help him in business by employing her social talents.

And now I have made Jack late to the office two mornings in succession! I'm terribly sorry because Jack hates it so. He's punctual by nature; never too early, never too late at any engagement.

Unfortunately, there's a staff meeting the first thing each morning. And the "boss" has a horrible habit of pointing out tardy individuals for reprimand, and making them feel like small boys late to school.

This morning he pointed a forefinger straight at Jack when he walked in eight minutes after 9 o'clock. And he fairly yelled out: "Late again, Maxson! You were late yesterday! Why? Explain!"

After staring so that almost everybody turned around to see how Jack took it, the "boss" went right on with business and never gave Jack a chance to say a single word. Perfectly maddening!

And it was my fault that Jack had to endure this humiliation. But he didn't tell me about it. Jessie Langdon did. She had lunched with her husband down town and then she phoned me.

"I thought you ought to know," she said, "so you can get the poor boy off earlier in the morning!"

"So sweet of you to tell me, dear! Jack never would!" I answered. As I hung up the receiver I was reminded of what Jack often had said, that business and society mix about as well as oil and water.

I think Jack is wrong. I think a wife can help a husband wonderfully by being friendly with the office. But Jack insists that she doesn't like cliques, and that just as soon as the wives get friendly the cliques are sure to form and create jealousies and rivalries. I'm hoping it won't happen in our case. For Jessie Langdon added an invitation to her phone talk. Or rather, she said that she called me to invite me to a morning bridge. It's a progressive party, from 10 to 12, with breakfast at noon.

A brand new idea in this town. I think I'll give one. I want to go to Jessie's to meet the wife of Jack's "boss." I am convinced it will be a good thing for Jack if I am on friendly terms with Mrs. Boss.

I'm happy because I have my lovely pearl beads to set off my black crepe when I go to the morning bridge. But I came close to losing them the other day on a street car. Across from me I noticed a strange looking man, dark, thin, a foreigner, was watching me. He was rude. I was annoyed.

In the crowd on the platform as we left the car this man stood close to me. As I stepped out at the moment I thought I felt a touch of warm fingers on the back of my neck.

I shiver when I think of it! I put my hand suddenly to my collar and my precious beads, unclasped, slid in a heap into my palm!

I'd weep if I lost those silly beads bought with my first money; my husband gave me.

I took them to the nearest jeweler. The clerk said the clasp was all right. He suggested that somebody had tried to steal them, and we laughed together.

Who would risk committing a crime for a string of false beads? (To Be Continued)

Sport Shoes Are the Vogue

Of course it isn't just a happenstance. It came about because Sports Shoes combine better than other types the qualities of smartness, sensibility and serviceability. An especially swaggy style and very rugged foot, is a flat heeled elk-skin Oxford with an apron strap in contrasting color.

IF WINTER COMES

By A. S. M. HUTCHINSON

His head was not aching, but there throbbed within his head, ceaselessly and enormously, a pulse that seemed to shake him at its base. It was going knock, knock, knock! He began to have the feeling that if this frightful knocking continued it would beat its way out. Something would give way. He was the father of Effie's child; he was the murderer of Effie and her child! He was neither; but the crimes were fastened upon him as

PATTERN FOR TODAY

A SMART UP-TO-DATE DRESS
3564. This new "over the skirt" blouse goes well with the full skirt that completes the stylish effect here illustrated. Taffeta with self frills and a bit of embroidery for the vestee are here combined. The sleeves may be in wrist or elbow length. Linen with broad trimming, or ginghams with collar and cuffs of organdy are equally attractive for this model.
The Pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. An 18 year size requires 5 yards of 40 inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is 2 yards.

incurable pigment upon his skin. He was a betrayer and a murderer, and every refutation that he could produce turned to a brand in his hands and branded him yet more deeply. He writhed in torment. For ever, he would carry the memory of that fierce and sweating face pressing towards him across the table in that court. No! It was another face that stood like flame before his eyes. Twynning! Twynning, Twynning! He ground his teeth upon the name. He twisted in his chair upon the thought. Twynning, Twynning, Twynning! Knock, knock, knock! Ah that knocking, that knocking! Something was going to give way in a minute. It must be abated. A feverish desire to smoke came upon him. He had not got it. He remembered that he had started for Brighton left it behind. He started to hunt for it. He remembered a previous occasion of searching for it like this. When? Ah, when Effie had told him she had found it lying about and had put it—of all absurd places for a cigarette case—in the back of the clock. Effie! He went quickly to the clock and opened it. Good! It was there. He snatched it up. Something else there. A folded paper. His name pencilled on it: Mr. Sabre.

She had left a message for him! That cigarette case business had been deliberately done!

He began to read. Tears stood in his eyes. Pitiful, oh, pitiful. He turned the page—knock, knock, knock! The knocking suddenly ceased. He threw up his hand. He gave a very loud cry. A single note. A note of extraordinary exaltation: "Ha!"

He crushed the paper between his hands. He cried aloud: "Into my hands! Into my hands! Thou hast delivered him!"

He opened the paper and read again, his hand shaking, and now a most terrible trembling upon him. Dear Mr. Sabre,

I wanted you to go to Brighton so I could be alone to do what I am just going to do. You see they won't let me see my little baby and now I have made things too terrible for you. So I see the only thing to do is to take myself out of it all and take my little baby with me. Soon I shall explain things to God and then I think it will be quite all right. My heart is filled with gratitude to you. I cannot express it; but I shall tell God when I explain everything to Him; and my one hope is that after I have been punished I shall be allowed to meet you again, and thank you—there, where everything will be understood.

He turned over. I feel I ought to tell you now, before I leave this world, what I never was able to tell you or anyone. The father of my little baby was Harold Twynning who used to be in your office. We had been secretly engaged a very, very long time and then he was in an officers' training camp at Bournemouth where I was, and I don't think I quite understood. We were going to be married and then he had to go suddenly, and then he was afraid to tell his father and then this happened and he was more afraid. So that was how it all was. I do want you, please, to tell Harold that I quite forgive him, only I can't quite write to him. And dear Mr. Sabre, I do trust you to be with Harold what you have always been with me and with everybody—gentle, and understanding things. Goodbye and may God bless and reward you for ever and ever. Effie.

"Hard As You Can" Were Sabre's Orders.

He shouted again, "Ha!" He cried again, "Into my hands! Into my hands!"

He abandoned himself to a rather horrible ecstasy of hate and passion. His face became rather horrible to see. His face became purple and black and knotted, and the veins on his forehead black. He cried aloud, "Harold! Harold! Twynning! Twynning!" He rather horribly mimicked Twynning. "Harold's such a good boy! Harold's such a good, Christian, model boy! Harold's never said a bad word or had a bad thought. Harold's such a good boy." He cried out: "Harold's such a blackguard! Harold's such a blackguard! A blackguard and the son of a vile, infamous, lying, perjured blackguard."

His passion and his hate surmounted his voice. He choked. He picked up his stick and went with frantic hops to the door. He cried aloud, gritting his teeth upon it, "I'll cram the letter down his throat. I'll cram the letter down his throat. I'll take him by the neck. I'll bash him across the face. And I'll cram the letter down his throat."

The cab driver was resting on his box with purposeful and luxurious rest. Sabre waved his stick at him, and shouted to him, "Fortune's office in Tidborough. Hard—as you can." He wrenched open the door and got in. In a moment, the startled horse scarcely put into motion by its startled driver, he put his head and arm from the window and was out on the step. "Stop! Stop! Let me out. I've something to get."

He ran again into the house and bundled himself up the stairs and into his room. At his bureau he took a drawer and wrenched it open so that it came out in his hand, and scattered its contents upon the floor. One article fell heavily. His service revolver. He grabbed it up and, dropping on his hands and knees, padding eagerly about after scattered cartridges. As he searched his voice went harshly, "He's holed me to hell. At the very gates of hell I've got him, got him, and I'll have him by the throat and hurl him in!" He broke open the breach and jammed the cartridges in, counting them. "One, two, three, four, five, six!" He snatched up the breach and jammed the revolver in his jacket pocket. He went scrambling again down the stairs, and as he scrambled down he cried, "I'll cram the letter down his throat. When he's sprawling, when he's looking, perhaps I'll out with my gun and drill him, drill him for the dog, the dog that he is."

He was arrived! He was here! "Into my hands! Into my hands." He passed into the office and swiftly as he could go up the stairs. He encountered no one. He came to Twynning's door and put his hand upon the latch. Immediately, and enormously, so that for a moment he was forced to pause, the pulse broke out anew in his head. Knock, knock, knock. Knock, knock, knock. Curse the thing! Never mind. In! In! At him!

He went in. On the left, at the far end of the room, Twynning sat at his desk. He was crouched at his desk. His head was buried in his hands. At his elbows, vivid upon the black expanse of the table, lay a torn envelope, dull red.

Sabre shut the door and leant his stick against the wall by the fire. He took the letter from his pocket and walked across and stood over Twynning. Twynning had not heard him. He stood over him and looked down upon him. Knock, knock, knock. Curse the thing. There was Twynning's neck, that brown strip between his collar and his head, that in a minute he would catch him by . . . No, seated thus he would catch his hair and wrench him back and cram his meal upon him. Knock, knock, knock. Curse the thing!

He said heavily, "Twynning Twynning, I've come to speak to you about your son."

Twynning slightly twisted his face in his hands so as to glance up at Sabre. His face was red. He said in an odd, thick voice, "Oh, Sabre, Sabre, have you heard?"

Sabre said, "Heard?" "He's killed. My Harold. My boy. My boy, Harold. Oh, Sabre, Sabre, my boy, my boy, my Harold!"

He began to sob; his shoulders heaving. Sabre gave a sound that was just a whimper. Oh, irony of fate! Oh, cynicism incredible in its malignancy! Oh, cumulative touch! To deliver him this his enemy to strike, and to present him for the knife thus already stricken!

No sound in all the range of sounds whereby man can express emotion was possible to express this emotion that now surcharged him. This was no pain of man's devising. This was a special and a private agony of the gods reserved for victims approved for very nice and exquisite experiment. He felt himself squeezed right down beneath a pressure squeezing to his vitals; and there was squeezed out him just a whimper.

Twynning was brokenly saying, "It's good of you to come, Sabre. I feel it. After that business. I'm sorry about it. Sabre. I feel your goodness coming to me like this. But you know, you always knew, what my boy was to me. My Harold. My Harold. Such a good boy, Sabre. Such a good, Christian boy. And now he's gone, he's gone. Never to see him again. My boy. My son. My son."

Oh, dreadful! And he went on, distraught and pitiable. "My boy. My Harold. Such a good boy, Sabre. Such a perfect boy. My Harold!" The letter was crumpled in Sabre's right hand. He was constricting it in his hand and knocking his clenched knuckles on the marble. "My boy. My dear, good boy. Oh, Sabre, Sabre!" He dropped his right arm and swung it by his side; to and fro; over the fender—over the fire; over the hearth—over the flames. "My Harold. Never to see his face again! My Harold." (Concluded Sunday.) glory of red paint and gold letters, close up beside the road.

At the same time Nancy's pink fingers touched a hard object in her pocket which she immediately hauled out and discovered to be another dime.

Of course Nick found one, too. Nick had been right. The dimes were magic. They had the power to make people who owned them forget time and everything else. "Oh, this is different!" said Nancy. "It's a candy store." And she stopped to gaze at the piles of pink taffy, salted peanuts and yellow cakes. "I'm dreadfully hungry. Let's go in."

So in they walked, Nick quite forgetting his fine words about hurrying on their errand. They wandered from counter to counter, trying to make up their minds what to buy, from the counter with nut bars to the one with sunshine drops, from the sunshine drops to the candy kisses, from the candy kisses to the lemon sticks, and from the lemon sticks to the lollypops. Even then they couldn't decide, for across the aisle were piled up perfect mountains of chocolate marshmallows and popcorn balls.

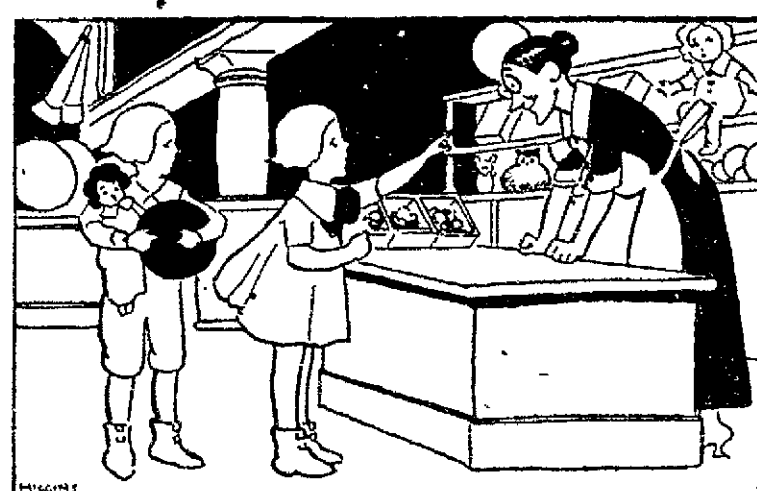

Finally Nick bought peanuts and Nancy gumdrops.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

NOTHING OVER TEN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"They wandered from counter to counter"

Nancy bought a doll with her dime in the five-and-ten-cent-store, and Nick bought a whistle. He had taken them hours to decide.

It was Nick who suddenly remembered their errand. "We'll have to hurry, Nancy," he said, sticking the record under his arm and making for the door. "We shouldn't have stayed so long in here. We're not a third of the way over this mountain yet."

"Wasn't it funny about the dimes,"

Nick! said Nancy, trotting along beside him. "How do you suppose they got in our pockets?"

"Magic, I'll bet," replied Nick. "No more stores for me! I'll bet Twelve Toes sent those dimes."

"Mebbe," said Nancy thoughtfully. But no sooner had they got outside and started along the path over the mountain, again than another five-and-ten-cent-store appeared. There it stood in all its tempting

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

SMOKES, BEER
IN TRAINING

BY HENRY L. FARRELL.
NEW YORK—England has a lot of liberal ideas but in the training of athletes the British theory is positively loose.

However, there is no chance now for Americans to prove the respective merits of the two training systems, because there is no beer or no ale in the United States and that's what they train on in England.

The relay runners of the University of Pennsylvania who finished second behind Cambridge in the recent four-mile event at the Queens club in London, were the most recent American boys to be stunned by the English way of getting ready for a race.

AVE A FAG
The Penn boys were treated royally by their British hosts and invariably at every function their introduction was followed by "ave one, won't you?" and a mug of ale. The Americans refused and the British couldn't understand why they took their sport so seriously or why the ale and beer would hurt them.

Then the English boys would drag out, fill up and light a big pipe. The Americans wouldn't join at first.

Later some of them did, according to reports.

American trainers have already maintained that beer, ale and tobacco ruined the wind, and decreased endurance.

Looking over the list of middle-distance and long distance running events however it will be seen that the British are as a rule superior to Americans and there is no test of the wind or endurance like three, five or ten miles on the track.

SMOKERS UPSET DOPE
Two years ago at the Penn relays, hundreds of coaches gathered for the big games had a shock when they saw the star runners and hurdlers of the Oxford-Cambridge team come upon the field smoking pipes, Joppe, the hurdler, was puffing on a cigar.

The coaches wanted a curtain drawn around the "heretics" lost their charges see them and follow their example.

The prediction of several American trainers that the fruits of their folly would be demonstrated when the relay team went on the track for the two-mile relay was all busted, tho, when the Britishers went out and not only won the event handily but established a new world's record.

DEMPSEY LIKES NIP
Last year, the French college team that came over for Joe Penn relays had a great shock when they learned that they couldn't have vin rouge for their meals.

Many professional boxers drink beer and light wine. Jack Dempsey likes beer and usually drinks it when he is training. Carpenter, like most Frenchmen, considers wine a necessary part of each meal.

HAS ONLY CHANCE

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)
NEW YORK.—Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion is now using his right to write powerful pieces for the London papers. Tommy's opinions are largely printed and generally respected when he talks about ring things.

Experting about the present condition of the heavyweight class in one of the London papers received today, Burns says:

"The only fighter who has a real good chance to win the title from Jack Dempsey under 'protect yourself at all times' rules is Harry Wills, the American colored fighter. Probably no boxer knows Wills as well as I do, as I referred two opponents for him — one against Sam Langford and one against Tim Johnson. Wills won both fairly easily."

BIG AS JOHNSON
"Wills is as big as Jack Johnson and a better natural fighter than he ever was, but not as good in defense. Wills is another Peter Jackson."

"Carpenter would have a good chance with Dempsey in another fight in a clean-breaking contest, but if Dempsey were allowed to hit in the clinches as in the previous fight, it would be — 'goodnight, George' in a few rounds."

Burns says that Carpenter and Beckett ought to fight again as the one-punch victory of the Frenchman in their first encounter was a fluke.

WANTS BOUT WITH BECK
Tommy thinks he has something left himself as he suggested that he be given another chance against Beckett if the Frenchman will meet the British champion again.

London perhaps will not take kindly to any disparaging remarks about "Southampton Joey". Beckett is regarded as a real champion, even if he is looked upon in the United States as the "count of ten."

BAN JOHNSON SPONSORS CURB ON BOISTEROUS FAN

PRESIDENT JOHNSON of the American League, who has sponsored practically every worthwhile reform in baseball, is not content to rest on his laurels.

The American League intends to enforce a rule this year that will meet with the approval of every fair-minded fan. Incidentally women patrons of the game will say "amen."

NO ABUSE PERMISSIBLE
The rules of baseball ordain that no spectator shall have the right to abuse either the home or visiting players. Such a trade is always annoying to the fans who stand for fair play.

Nothing is more tiresome to the real fan, the fellow who is there four or five days a week, than the boisterous, troublesome fan, who, as a rule, gets very personal.

In both major leagues last season there were certain cities that suffered greatly from such a nuisance. In two or three of the cities the abuse was usually directed at the visiting team. Often some thin-skinned player would be the target for a lot of personal abuse with a hope that his play would be affected.

BOTH LEAGUES COMPLAIN
A number of players in both major leagues have seriously objected to

GOOD STUFFING IS RESPONSIBLE

By BILLY EVANS.
I have always refrained from referring to the ball in use last year as a lively ball. I have simply said that it was the best ball ever made. Being the best ball it naturally was considerably livelier.

I do not think there was any intent to "pep" up the ball in a hope that it would increase hitting. The fact that the very best wool was used, making it possible to wind the ball much tighter, plus the best of workmanship, resulted in an extraordinary ball that would carry when properly hit.

The ball last year undoubtedly had much to do with the great increase in hitting. The mediocre pitching and the elimination of freak deliveries did the rest.

On what I have seen of the ball so far this year I would say that it did not have the carrying qualities of the ball used last season. It such proves to be the case hitting is sure to ease up.

NICK ALTROCK OFFERS NOSE FOR GOLF TEE

NICK ALTROCK ON THE GROUND OFFERING HIS NOSE AS A TEE FOR THE GOLF BALL. WALTER JOHNSON AND STANLEY HARRIS LOOKING ON WITH JIM THOMPSON, SOUTHERN PROFESSIONAL, DOING THE DRIVING.

NICK ALTROCK, famous comedian of the Washington baseball club, is nothing if not original.

Someone told Nick the story about William Tell shooting the apple off his son's head with his trusty bow and arrow.

The sounded interesting to Nick, so he decided to go William Tell one better.

Nick conceived the idea of placing a golf ball on his nose as a substitute for a tee, and having said ball driven off the nose.

"Anyone who has ever seen me and therefore is familiar with the size of my nose will appreciate the great danger entailed in pulling this stunt," is the way Nick explains it.

Nick insists there are any number of golfers he would not allow to drive the ball, among them being Babe Ruth.

GROVER SEES
RED; WINS

CHICAGO—The Reds sent two pitching aces, Donohue and Gillespie, against Grover Cleveland Alexander of the Cubs yesterday. Donohue was touched for three bingles, Gillespie none and, Grover five, but Grover's were scattered, hence his 3 to 1 victory.

Cubs are still treading on the heels of the league-leading Giants. A game is the only difference. Box scores:

COBB SURE RIGNEY WILL DELIVER
Ty Cobb is positive the weak spot on the Detroit infield, shortstop, has finally been taken care of. The Tiger leader is certain that "Topper" Rigney is destined to become a fixture and will develop into a real star.

Cobb goes even further, and says that inside of two months the baseball experts will be saying a lot of nice things about that young man.

"Rigney is certain to make good in the American League," says Cobb. "The youngster got away to a rather bad start in the Cleveland series, but that doesn't mean a thing."

"Rigney is a youngster who has never been above the Mason and Dixon line for any great length of time, and everything is new to him."

"Just as soon as he gets acclimated, gets to know his batters, and realizes that the big league brand of baseball is played just the same as in the Texas League, watch his smoke."

"Rigney is fast, can go equally well to either his left or right, and has plenty of nerve."

FOUR GAMES BOOKED BY INDEPENDENTS

OUR games, all in a row, compose the dish that the management of the Lima Independents has so far prepared for the delectation of fandom. Beginning with the first diamond battle with the Cincinnati Wiedemanns, Sunday, Manager Halloran has games until May 7. The last choice bit of baseball food is the announcement that the track Knights of Columbus team of Columbus will play here May 7, being one of the arrangements to set off the state convention of the K. of C. lodge.

TIGERS DROP SIXTH

DETROIT—Ty Cobb's Tigers is the only organization in either of the major leagues that has not won a game this season. Defeated by Cleveland in a ninth inning rally here yesterday, Ty's list was increased to a half dozen.

The Clevelanders trailed Detroit for eight innings, then rallied in the final frame after two were out, scoring two runs and beat them out, 5 to 4. It was the opening of the American League season here. Box-scores:

HEINE IN ACTION

HERE is how Heine Groh looks in the uniform of the New York Giants.

Groh will be used at third base this season. Frankie Frisch, the Fordham Flash, who held down that position last year, will be shifted to second.

This will be Groh's second time with New York. McGraw had him as a youngster and traded him to Cincinnati. To get him back he was forced to give up George Burns, Catcher Gonzales and a lot of real money.

Groh was snapped showing him making a gloved hand catch of a rather bad throw.

BROWN SEEKS TRACK FAME

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Fiske Brown, All-American guard and captain of the Harvard track team, aims to establish his name as prominently in the track world this spring as it is in the annals of college football.

Brown was good enough to trail along in the weight events during his prep school days at Andover and as a member of the freshmen track team.

But the young giant never took the weight-throwing game seriously enough until Bill Bingham and Jim Tolbert took him in hand.

Bingham, Harvard's track coach, provided the enthusiasm; Tolbert, the Crimson's best weight-thrower, would leave his college without a man in the events, supplied the technical knowledge.

SKIES IRON 150 FEET

No one took Brown as a serious factor in Harvard's track and field athletics until the Harvard-Yale athletes met those of Oxford and Cambridge last summer. Then he stepped into the ring, gazed upon the athletes set by his competitors, and lazily heaved the 16-pound hammer 159 feet.

The Harvard tracksters selected Brown to lead them after his performance in the international college meet. He was already captain of the wrestling team, but resigned from that job to take charge of the major sport.

Brown's ambitions in football were realized when Walter Camp named him the best guard in the east. He's planning now to have the same fame at the close of the track season.

RULE MAKERS ALTER BASKET CODE

(By BILLY EVANS)

THE foul rule in basketball has finally been changed.

All winter long the foul rule has been an issue in basketball.

A majority of the experts felt that the foul rule destroyed action and made the game largely a specialist affair, in which the foul shooter was featured.

At the recent meeting of the basketball rules committee the foul rule was debated for two days. Some of the leading basketball officials argued against any change. It seemed as if the rule would stand.

However, the progressive element won out and the foul rule has been much altered.

A decided line has been drawn between the technical and personal foul.

NO SHOOTING ON FOUL

When a technical foul is made the ball is awarded to the opponents at the point where the foul is committed with the right to put the ball in play with an unguarded pass. They shall not be permitted to dribble or shoot for goal.

The penalty for personal foul differs according to the point on the court where the foul is committed. If the personal foul is committed within certain areas, hereafter to be called the penalty areas, at either end of the court, the penalty will be greater than if the foul be committed outside that space.

PENALTY ZONE EXTENDED

The penalty area is a zone formed by the extension of the present free throw line to either side of the court.

For fouls committed within the zone the price paid will be two free throws. For a personal foul, committed outside the zone, the penalty will stand as at present, namely, a single free throw.

CHAMPS ACROSS WATER PULL STUTNS AS GOOD AS VAUDEVILLE JOKES

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK — While Europe is joining the avil chorus in razzing Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, some funny stunts are being pulled among the continental featherweights that even the resourceful Irishman hardly would attempt.

The European championship, according to London papers, changed hands recently without a blow being struck and then changed back again after a few verbal hooks and crosses.

WINS WITHOUT FIGHT

Eugene Criqui, the French champion, challenged Arthur Wynn, the Belgian and European champion, six months ago. Criqui set the date and made all the arrangements without hearing a word from Wynn. The appointed hour to weigh in for the fight came and Criqui went through the ceremony. Wynn was not there. Thereupon, Criqui claimed the title by default and the French Boxing Federation supported the claim.

Any champion, according to rules of the International Boxing Federation, must accept a challenge from a bona fide challenger within six months after the challenge is issued. Criqui had the rules behind him, but he acted hastily in claiming the title before his case was heard by the International Federation.

British fight circles laughed at the procedure and the Belgians wanted to call out the king's royal troops to avenge the wrong.

Criqui, seeing that he had made an unpopular step, told the French Federation that he had not intended to claim the title that the rules gave him and that his friends had become over zealous, or something like that. JOHNNY IS PARTICULAR

The fight probably will be held between June 20 and July 14.

They are talking of putting the winner in ring with Kilbane while the Irishman is in Europe, but it is not likely that the champion will fight over there. Johnny is kind of particular about his referee and they have rules over there different from the ones that Johnny likes to dictate. If all the crown jewels of Europe could be piled in one heap, there might be sufficient inducement for Kilbane to take a little work or take a real chance.

CITY CAGE CHAMPS CHALLENGED

Clay Hammack, captain of the Golden Maroons, a local junior basketball organization, has issued a challenge to the Veterans, winners of the city junior tournament at the Y. M. C. A. two weeks ago, for the city title.

If accepted, Veterans notify Maroons thru Hammack, 118 S. Baxter-st, phone, Rice 6678, or The Lima News.

DONNER VETTER!

ERSET CITY—A strike among players of the Jersey City International league is threatened as the result of a move to force them to wear distasteful uniforms.

They balk at shirts on which the emblem of Peter Stuyvesant, Dutch hero and hero of the city, showing his well-known wooden leg, is affixed.

BUNT IS DUE FOR COMEBACK

The bunt in baseball is due to come back.

The season of 1922 is certain to see a revival of the bunt as an offensive weapon.

The lively ball and a desire to emulate the deeds of Babe Ruth has crowded the bunt off the baseball map for several years.

The bunt is a one-run play. It means much to get a one-run advantage under the ordinary conditions. For several years, however, one run has meant nothing in the life of a ball team.

The lively ball always opened up possibilities for getting runs in clusters. For that reason most teams kissed the bunt goodbye, placed it securely away with the moth balls.

With a less lively ball and better pitching the bunt is sure to return to popular favor during the 1922 season.

It's a great method to put the opposition in the air, throw a pitcher off his stride, one of baseball's most dangerous weapons on offense.

MUTT AND JEFF—THERE'S A NEW BOARDER IN THE HOOSE-GOW—

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By GEORGE McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

E. H. Jones, S. West-st., former deep-sea sailor, says the W. Kibby-st. car line never is really rough no matter how much the cars ruck. "You can't say any street car line is really rough," he says, "until the passengers begin to get seasick."

Minor Crossley says he saw a pink butterfly, the first of the season at Parrot Park. "But I'm not telling about it any more," he adds. "Too many persons I tell it to warn me to steer clear of home-made hooch."

W. J. Judkins, 1037 W. Market-st., reports a neighbor who told him his small son hadn't wakened him by crying at night for two weeks now. "How did you train him?" Judkins asked. "I didn't," he says.

"The infant is visiting his grandmother."

G. E. Roudsback, principal at South High, recalls an expense sent in near the close of the school term last year which said a pupil who was absent the previous afternoon was ill. "I have no reason for doubting it," he said, "but a baseball rain check fell out of the folded note."

The White Desert

By Courtney Ryley Cooper

Author of "The Cross Cut"

Fate had given Barry Houston a harsh deal. Falsely accused of murder, a sacrifice to the political ambitions of a district attorney, snubbed by his friends, distrusted by his father and then—

He came to the White Desert to work out his salvation. In the snow and ice of the Continental Divide, on the backbone of the North American continent in Colorado, he began a lone battle against the unknown forces which were wrecking his lumber business.

Allied against him were the frost-warped men of the timber lands and "the feminine Judas"—the woman he had promised to marry. The mounting climaxes of the battle against harsh men and even crueler winter are welded into a brilliant and gripping work of fiction. The charming and eccentric Ba tiste Renaud and Medaine Robinette, the girl of the mountains, are characters which will remain in your memory.
